Lashley 1965 Star Farmer

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Nineteen-year-old Buddy Lee Lashley of Curtis was named 1965 Star Farmer of Nebraska Thursday evening in the first session of the 37th annual Nebraska Future Farmers of America convention.

Just previous to receiving the highest honor the State FFA association can confer on one of its members Lashley had been named the Western Area Star Farmer.

Other Area Star Farmers named were; Rick Moody of Pender, Northeast; Roger Tegtmeier of Burchard, Southeastern; and Larry Cunningham of Fullerton, Central.

Star Farmer Lashley is in his second year out of McCook High School. He operates 800 acres of land and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy M. Lashley of McCook.

In a special ceremony conducted by Nebraska FFA Association officers and State Advisor Glenn Strain 11 FFAers from 65 Chapters were advanced to the degree of State Farmer.

A gold charm and a certificate was presented to each of the State Farmer's who represent two percent of the total FFA membership.

Qualifications

Qualifications for the degree are:—earned $500 or more and has it invested in his farming program. 2—be an active member in good standing in local and state association. 3—pass an FFA test. 4—have satisfactory scholarship rating while in high school. 5—have demonstrated leadership qualities.

In addition the candidates selected must have a well-developed farming program and have shown progress toward establishment in farming.

Creed Winner

Larry White of Lexington took top honors in the state FFA contest for creed speaking as the first winners in state championship events were announced.

Other Creed winners included Cliff Walker, Scottsbluff, second place; and Roger Shull Central City, third place.

Victor Bohuslavsky of David City, won top honors in the public speaking events with Stanley Kracl, Schuyler, and Melvin Shoemaker, Ansley, second and third respectively

Social Security Vastly Enlarged

. . . OLD AGE BENEFITS HIKED

Washington (AP)—The House passed legislation Thursday night for a vast enlargment of the Social Security system, including comprehensive health services for the aged and a general boost in retirement benefits.

The $6 billion bill goes well beyond President Johnson's original recommendations, but he embraced it enthusiastically and his supporters acclaimed it as a move toward the Great Society Johnson advocates.

A 313-115 roll call vote swept the bill to the Senate, where it faces hearings and other procedural steps probably for at least six weeks.

Republicans in the House fought for a substitute, similar to the administration bill but lacking the element of increased payroll tax for hospitalization.

When the substitute lost, 236 to 191, Republicans were free, so far as their party was concerned, to vote either way on the administration bill.

On substituting the Republican bill, 128 Republicans were joined by 63 Democrats, while 226 Democrats and 10 Republicans opposed the change.

On final passage of the administration bill, 248 Democrats and 65 Republicans voted for it, 42 Democrats and 73 Republicans against.

60 Days' Hospitalization

The farthest-reaching health benefit under the legislation—going to practically all Americans 65 or older—would be the right to a maximum of 60 days' hospitalization and 20 days nursing home care for each illness. The patient would pay the first $40.

Available to the elderly who want it would be an additional insurance plan covering doctor bills and some incidentals. This would cost $3 a month, deducted from Social Security payments or collected directly, and matched by the treasury. The benefits would apply after the first $50 of annual expense, paying 80% of the remainder.

The existing Kerr-Mills Act system of state-federal health services for the indigent and low-income aged would be stepped up with increased federal funds, easier eligibility requirements and increased coverage—taking in dependent children, the blind and disabled as well as the aged.

Old Age Increase

Old age retirement payments under Social Security would be increased seven per cent across the board, with a minimum increase of $4 a month. Accordingly, any retiree could sign up for the optional health insurance and still have more cash in hand than he does now.

There would be other liberalizing changes in the Social Security law; for example providing longer protection for the children, still in school or college, of deceased workers, and providing a special monthly payment for some workers and widows 72 and older who are ineligible under present law.

The cost of the hospitalization benefit for Social Security retirees, and of the increased old age payments would be met by increasing the payroll tax.

Rate, Wage Base Up

Both the rate and the wage base on which it applies would go up in steps over the years. The first increase, effective next year, would mean that a worker earning as much as $5,600 would pay $69.90 more during the year than he now pays, and his employer would pay a like amount.

To recoup some of the subsidy paid by the general treasury for health insurance on elderly persons with enough income to be subject to tax, a change would be made in the revenue code.

At present those 65 or older may deduct all their medical expenses; the bill would impose the same floor that now applies to younger persons, three per cent of income. But everyone would be allowed to deduct one-half of health insurance premiums.

Other provisions of the 296-page bill would bring self-employed doctors under Social Security coverage, allow Amish and other religious objectors to Social Security to withdraw from the system, and provide for payment of Social Security taxes on tips as well as basic salaries of waiters and other employes.

Charge Lawman, Watchman With 2nd Degree Lynching

Columbia, S.C. (AP)—A small-town policeman who charged a young Negro with resisting arrest was arrested himself Thursday as one of a band of robed and hooded men who later broke into the jail and beat and threatened the prisoner

Phillip Plampkin, 22, a policeman at Prosperity, a small town 30 miles northwest of Columbia, and the town's night watchman, L. Cornell Wise, 47, were arrested and charged with second-degree lynching—violence by a mob not resulting in death.

The two were released under $10 000 bond each

Chief J. P Strom of the state law enforcement division (SLED), whose organization was ordered into the case by Gov. Donald Russell, announced the arrests.

Sheriff, Chief Aid

Newberry County Sheriff Tom M Fellers and Prosperity Police Chief D. H. Willingham assisted in the arrests. Like Strom they declined any further statements until other members of the group of hooded men who broke into the jail early Monday are apprehended.

The 18-year-old Negro, Robert Jackson, was picked up by Plampkin Saturday night on a disorderly conduct charge. He said he was taken from his cell early Monday and slapped and threatened by five or six robed and hooded men. He said he was not injured.

Wise, the night watchman, was quoted as saying that the band took the jail keys from him by force, entered the three-cell jail section at the rear of the town hall, and took Jackson from his cell. The men locked him up again after the incident.

'Troublemaker'

Wise quoted the men as calling Jackson a "troublemaker" and said they were "not going to stand for any actions from him or any of his color." They apparently referred to the charges of resisting arrest against Jackson.

Plampkin and Wise were lodged in the Newberry County Jail at Newberry, 10 miles from Prosperity. It is the same jail to which Jackson was moved for safekeeping after the incident.

Jackson's case has yet to be heard by the town court. He also is charged with breaking a handle on his jail cell.

Strom said no bond was set for the two officers and no hearing date was arranged while the investigation continued.

Reds Reopen Road To Berlin To Allies

Berlin (AP)—The Communists reopened the Berlin Autobahn late Thursday night after a five-hour shutdown and permitted British and American military vehicles to pass.

It was the second shutdown of the day on the lifeline route between West Germany and West Berlin.

The first closedown Thursday lasted three hours and was lifted at the challenge of a U S. convoy.

Allied officials said 18 Allied military vehicles, which the Soviets refused to pass through the controls at Helmstedt, and eight Allied cars stuck outside of Berlin were allowed to continue in the night

Improvised Convoy

The cars included what local military sources at Helmstedt described as an improvised convoy of two British Land Rovers and one American sedan that drove up to the border after the shutdown.

The second blockade of the day came five hours after the Soviet Union averted a showdown with the United States over free access to Berlin by letting the morning convoy through.

A Soviet officer who talked to newsmen in Helmstedt said more interference with Berlin traffic could be expected until joint Soviet-East German military maneuvers end Sunday.

Could Be Serious

The second closing posed a challenge to the United States, Britain and France to take counteraction. It represented the worsening of a situation that could turn into a serious East-West crisis.

A car of the U.S. military mission to the Sovit forces in East Germany Thursday afternoon crashed down an embankment on the Autobahn near Berlin while it was reported being pursued by an East German police car.

The occupants of the car, identified as U.S. officers, did not appear to have been seriously hurt but the car was badly damaged.

Morotists arriving in Berlin said they cold not see clearly but they believed the East German car may have forced the American sedan off the road.

Cars of the U.S., British and French military mission often are pursued by members of the East German ministry for state security, the secret police.

The incident was about 16 miles west of Berlin.

Kill Bill Putting Top On Excess Funds In Computing State Levy

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A bill which its introducer said would put a $30 million ceiling on excess general funds in the computing of the state levy was killed 8-0 Thursday by the Legislature's Budget Committee.

Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte said his LB603 was an attempt to limit excess funds and put on some kind of ceiling.

He said cash balances have increased from $33 million in 1962 to $37.4 million in 1964 and charged miscellaneous revenues can be over or under estimated to produce whatever general property tax levy the State Board of Equalization wishes.

However, Legislative fiscal Analyst John Quigley told the committee the cash balances cited by Craft had no relationship to unappropriated cash surpluses in state funds.

"We won't know what the unappropriated general fund surpluses are for another two years," Quigley said. "The unappropriated surplus funds can be identified by 1967 under current procedures initiated."

Quigley said a proposed $50,000 audit to ascertain surpluses now "would be money down the drain."

'Not Current'

"The audit would show past surpluses, but could not determine the current surplus balance useful in final budget determination," he said. "In two years, this figure can be pulled out for 1967-69 budgeting."

Committee Chairman Richard Marvel said the bill would not accomplish what Craft intended to do with LB603 on the basis of Quigley's statements.

In other action, the committee held for study LB815 that would require fiscal analysis of bills prior to introduction before the Legislature.

Executive Branch

Introduced by Marvel, the bill would put responsibility for the fiscal note process in the hands of the executive branch with further review by the Legislature's fiscal office.

Quigley told the committee his office cannot now handle the fiscal notes on an interim or part-time basis, and the logical point would be with the governor's budget office.

However, Marvel asked the bill be held in view of an attorney general's opinion that no Legislator would be bound by state law requiring fiscal analysis of a bill before introduction, though the Legislature by its rules now requires a fiscal note on bill before reaching select file.

Advance 3 Bills

The committee by 8-0 actions advanced three bills simplifying budget procedures:

LB643, placing the Power Review Board under state budgetary procedures even though no general fund appropriation involved.

LB864, providing for the combining of all funds of the Department of Aeronautics into a single fund.

LB865 with amendments providing fees collected by the Department of Agriculture and Economic Development be collected and deposited to the general fund.

The committee was told that LB865 would simplify the Agriculture Department's accounting system which now has 31 auditor accounts and 85 sources of revenue.

Marvel told committee members that public hearings on all departmental budgets would be completed by the end of this month.

Astronaut Training Not Dull

Astronaut Lt. Cmdr. Alan L. Bean would just as soon go to the moon tomorrow, but he does admit that the training he is now undergoing is always interesting and exciting —"not stereotyped by any stretch of the imagination."

"There are so many things involved in our preparation for space flight that don't meet the eye," he said in an interview Thursday night. "For instance, we fly helicopters a lot because that type of navigation may be used when we land on the lunar surface."

Astronauts also spend several hours every week studying geology—not only in classes but also in the laboratory and in the field. Before they take off for the moon the men will have been all over the world looking at rocks with geology experts accompanying and teaching them.

Researchers

"The space program is so interesting," Bean said, that these experts take the time from their research to participate.

Bean, in Lincoln to address the Nebraska Press Association convention, will speak Friday about the various aspects of the training program.

Bean's father, Arnold Bean, is with the Soil Conservation Service in Lincoln.

Several Flights

The astronaut does not expect to be flying for at least "six months or a year," but will make several space flights before the manned moon trip which is planned for 1969-70.

Each man in the program has an engineering specialty in which he becomes proficient, according to Bean, and then keeps the other astronauts informed about the developments in that area.

Bean is concerned with recovery systems, dealing with such things as landing chutes, recovery forces, and re-entry systems. In the recent Gemini flight of Young and Grissom, the commander served as a liaison in the recovery room, available for consultation.

Biggest Problem

For the lunar expedition the space suit has presented the "biggest problem" of finding adequate protection and still permitting normal functions, Bean said. Learning to adapt to simulated lunar conditions—which only comes with practice—is also an important step for the men.

Lt. Cmdr. Bean declared that "the U.S. has a sound space program, pacing development as rapidly as we can go." He cautiously hinted, however, that Russian progress and space achievements "helped to motivate" our program or "accentuate certain areas."

"But there is never a thought," he emphasized, "of taking a chance or disregarding safety precautions."

Viet Terrorist Faces Death For Bombing

Saigon (AP) — A Vietnamese tribunal sentenced a Viet Cong terrorist involved in the U.S. Embassy bombing to death Friday

The time of the execution was not announced but it was expected to follow soon after the sentencing

Earlier this week the Viet Cong radio announced that if any of the terrorists accused in the embassy bombing were executed, it would shoot an American captive in reprisal. The American is Gustav C. Hertz, 46-year-old U.S. aid mission official, who was captured Feb. 2.

The death sentence was given to Nguyen Van Hai, 27, who was captured at the scene of the explosion.

Another man implicated in the bombing, Do Ngoc Chanh, 22 was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Earlier this week the Viet Cong radio announced that if any of the terrorists accused in the embassy bombing were executed, it would shoot an American captive in reprisal. The American is Gustav C. Hertz, 46-year-old U.S. aid mission official, who was captured Feb. 2.

The death sentence was given to Nguyen Van Hai, 27, who was captured at the scene of the explosion.

Omaha Flier Dies Ejecting From Plane

Washington (AP)—The Defense Department Thursday identified a Navy lieutenant killed in action and two Air Force officers missing, as a result of operations over North Viet Nam.

Navy Lt. William M. Roark died after ejecting from his plane Wednesday the Pentagon said. Roark's wife, Mrs. Karen Roark, lives in Omaha.

Missing after flights on April 3 were:

Capt. Herschel S. Morgan, Sumter, S.C.

1st Lt. George C. Smith of St. Louis, Mo.

At the same time, the Pentagon said that Lt. Cmdr. James J. Evans of Alameda, Calif., previously listed as missing in South Viet Nam, is missing instead after a mission over Laos. His Skyraider plane was seen to have been hit by groundfire, but was not observed to crash, the Pentagon said.

Voter Drive Plans Laid North, South

Atlanta (AP)—Civil rights leaders are drawing plans for a Southwide campaign to register Negro voters and a Northern big-city crusade to preach nonviolence.

About 2,000 college students from the North, East and West will be enlisted in the voter campaign outlined Thursday by the Rev. Andrew Young, executive secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).

"We are planning to see how many we can get registered from Alabama to Virginia and including north Florida." Young said in an interview. He is a key man in the SCLC headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

To Keep Growing

He said the Negro voter drive in Alabama would continue to expand. SCLC staff members are working now to mobilize or bolster the campaign in six counties.

The Alabama house approved and sent to the senate a proposal to limit the state voter literacy test to the ability to read and write. The difficult test now required has been under attack by Negro leaders.

At Selma, County Judge Hugh Mallory jailed two Negroes for contempt when they refused to move from one section of the courtroom to another. One was the Rev. James Bevel of SCLC

Wouldn't Move

Bevel and James Webb of Selma were sentenced to five days in jail and fined $50. The judge said they refused to move from a section reserved for "white persons, spectators and defendants."

Bevel was in court on a reckless driving charge. Trial was postponed.

Another SCLC staff member, James Orange, said mobilization would begin for voter registration next week in Perry, Hale, Marengo, Green, Lowndes and Wilcox Counties.

At Bogalusa, La., police stood guard for a civil rights rally where James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, was listed as the main speaker. Gunfire was exchenaged between Negroes and white night-riders in a flare of violence early Thursday. No injuries were reported.

Suits Hit 2 Counties

Rankin and Sharkey counties in Mississippi were targets of voter suits filed by the Justice Department. The suits filed at Jackson charge registrars with discriminating against Negroes.

These developments confirmed the program outlined by SCLC's Young in Atlanta.

He said that by June the voter drive should be under way across the entire South. Heading this drive is Hosea Williams, director of voter registration for SCLC.

City, County Teams

Williams will organize teams of about 10 college students for each county and 25 to 50 in the larger cities of the Southern target areas of SCLC.

Young said King's organization plans little, if any, activity in Louisiana and Mississippi. These two states will be the projects of other civil rights organizations.

The SCLC officer said CORE plans to put much of its staff in Louisiana and largely direct the projects there.

In Mississippi, Young said, the Freedom Democratic Party will be the primary arm of organization, backed by CORE and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Consulting Part

Young said SCLC's efforts in Northern cities "will be mainly a consultative role with groups already working." He said one principal aim was to spread King's doctrine of nonviolence in the simmering ghettos of those cities.

"It might develop into a major campaign in any of the cities," he said, "but we're thinking in terms of another tour like last year, just reaching nonviolence."

Among the cities he said would be included in SCLC's program are New York (Harlem), Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia and Detroit.

It Took 23 Years To Marry Medicare To Social Security

Washington (AP)—When the House opened debate on the massive health-Social Security bill it passed Thursday, a second-generation congressional supporter of such legislation was presiding.

This circumstance dramatized the long road that legislation for some form of widespread health coverage linked with the Social Security retirement system had to travel before reaching House enactment.

Bills to add hospitalization benefits to Social Security were introduced as early as 1942, only six years after the retirement system itself began. Reintroduced again and again, they made no headway.

Truman Message

President Harry S. Truman sent Congress a special message on Nov. 19, 1945, proposing a comprehensive health care program for everyone. Congress was cold to the idea.

But the principle of federal aid in providing health care to those actually in need made progress. In 1950 the welfare portion of the Social Security act was amended to provide federal participation in state payments for this purpose.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower tried another approach in 1954, recommending a limited federal reinsurance to encourage the expansion of private health plans. The bill failed.

The legislation usually considered the direct forerunner of the measure just passed was introduced in 1957 by Aime Forand, then a Democratic representative from Rhode Island. It would have increased Social Security taxes and provided hospital, nursing home and surgical benefits for persons retired under Social Security.

After receiving a study of the whole problem from the Health, Education and Welfare Department and conducting hearings in 1959, the House Ways and Means Committee undertook to draft legislation.

However, the result, which became the Kerr-Mills Act of 1960, discarded the Forand bill approach. Instead, the federal-state system of health benefits for the needy was strengthened and provision was made for help to persons who, while not actually destitute, had to show they could not cope with heavy medical expenses. Many states were slow to implement the Kerr-Mills Act.

JFK, LBJ Kept It Up

President John F Kennedy and, after his death, President Johnson, kept calling in annual messages for a Social Security-related hospitalization plan.

Rep. Cecil R. King, D-Calif., and Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., introduced in 1963 legislation that is essentially the hospitalization portion of the present bill. The ways and means committee was conducting hearings on it in November 1963 when the assassination of President Kennedy interrupted the work.

Last year the ways and means committee approved and the House passed legislation for increased Social Security retirement payments similar to the corresponding provisions in the 1965 bill. The committee majority refused to add a Social Security health section.

Senate Spurred

The Senate, however, spurred by Anderson and others, attached such a section to the House bill. It was the first time a Social Security health measure of this kind had been voted by either house.

But the Senate action came to nothing.

The present Congress, with its heavy Democratic majority, turned quickly to the issue this year, and Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who had long opposed the addition of health programs to Social Security, worked out a compromise using a separate addition to the payroll tax.

Another compromise incorporated into the bill the essentials of a Republican plan for a voluntary contributory system to cover other medical expenses.

Social Security increases like those voted last year and enlargement of Kerr-Mills rounded out the omnibus bill the House finally passed.

The chairman of the House Committee of the Whole who presided over the opening of debate was Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich. His late father, also a Michigan congressman, was a pioneer in Social Security legislation.

Mutineers Oust Viet Navy Chief

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Twenty young naval officers ousted Adm. Chung Tan Cang as the Vietnamese navy's commander Thursday in a quiet mutiny that evidently had the government's blessing. There was no shooting and no bloodshed.

U.S. officers seemed pleased at the outcome of this latest in the periodic power plays which have plagued the Vietnamese armed forces for more than two years. One said:

"Cang has been a thorn in our side as well as the Vietnamese."

The admiral, 39, is an old associate of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

A government source said, Cang had rejected repeated requests that he resign after Khanh bowed out as strongman in February and left for the United States as a roving ambassador.

Obstructive

Cang was reported to have been uncooperative in the movement of military supplies by sea to combat the Viet Cong in the central highlands. His tactics were a source of concern to the U.S. 7th Fleet, which is trying to strengthen all possible ties with the Vietnamese for joint patrols against seaborne Communist infiltrators.

Ousted with him was his deputy, Cmdr. Lam Nguon Tanh.

Both disappeared after being served with a manifesto of explusion from the Mutineers. They were believed to be in hiding.

The uprising broke near the end of a day that saw these other developments:

—U. S. officials reported that up to 200 Viet Cong guerrillas were killed by Vietnamese marines in a battle Wednesday night in Binh Dinh province, 320 miles northeast of Saigon. They said five Vietnamese were killed and 25 wounded. There were no American casualties.

63 Missions Flown

—U.S. Air Force jets and other combat planes flew 63 missions against a suspected Viet Cong concentration in Kontum province, a central highlands neighbor of Binh Dinh.

—Informed sources reported a noncommissioned officer who once served on the junior section of the armed forces council now is serving a life term on conviction of being a Viet Cong agent.

'Moon Fairy' Tripped Up By Talcum

Saigon (UPI) — A shapely Vietnamese barmaid named "Moon Fairy" has been charged with using her charms to extract military information from U.S. helicopter pilots at a lonely outpost, it was revealed Thursday.

National police disclosed that Nguyen Thi Nga, a lissome 22-year-old waitress at the Clear Incense Bar in Soc Trang, 90 miles southwest of Saigon, was arrested last Saturday.

She was charged in a plot involving explosives in tea cannisters and talcum cans which could kill or maim anyone in the vicinity of the blast when detonated.

Skilled Agent

The girl, whose name means "Moon Fairy," was described as a skilled agent of the Communist intelligence network in South Viet Nam

Police said her mission at the Clear Incense was to obtain military information from lonely GIs which would be useful to the Communist Viet Cong.

The U.S. Army's 121st Aviation Co. is based at Soc Trang

If definitely linked to terrorist bombings, Moon Fairy could become the first woman to face a South Vietnamese firing squad. An act of terrorism carries the death penalty.

Pals Gave Her Away

Moon Fairy was given away, police said, not by her own mistakes but by two fellow Communists who had been arrested for distributing Viet Cong leaflets in Soc Trang.

Police searched the two and found homemade bombs hidden in talcum powder cans later traced to Moon Fairy.

Many Baptists Nabbed In Cuba 'Spy' Roundup

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Havana Radio said Thursday Fidel Castro's security police arrested 53 members of an alleged spy ring, including an American Baptist Church executive and several Baptist clergymen.

The American was The Rev. Herbert Caudill, who has been in Cuban missionary work for more than 20 years. Others arrested were not named in the broadcast, which was monitored in Miami.

An official of the Baptist World Alliance said in Washington it was ridiculous to accuse Caudill of espionage.

Exiles in the United States claim that Castro recently stepped up his drive against the Protestant church in Cuba.

The broadcast said the American, "ostensibly head of the Western Baptist Convention in Cuba," and the other minister, "working under the cloak of religion, organized a counter revolutionary group for missions of espionage and subversion.

"Caudill gathered much military information, also information of economic and political nature, which was turned over to espionage agencies of the United States," Havana Radio said.

'STREAKING' NEW COLLEGE SPRING FAD

Boulder, Colo. (UPI)—The spring fad on college campuses used to be telephone booth stuffing and panty raids.

But at the University of Colorado it's called streaking. Streaking means running naked through a public gathering.

It has been revealed that 15 University of Colorado students streaked down the main street of Mazatlan, Mexico, March 29.

They ran through a hotel and a bowling alley, with gun-shooting police in hot pursuit.

Ten students ran into the ocean and escaped.

Full Farm-Aid Losses Not Told, Says Holland

. . . Administration Holding Back, Claims Senator

Holland, chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that handles the Agriculture Department's annual money bill, told Secretary Orville L. Freeman that the executive branch of the government is holding back a final accounting on more than $2 billion in such losses, incurred as far back as 1961.

Freeman appeared before the subcommittee to outline his agency's financial needs for the fiscal year beginning July 1. He insisted that the maintenance of farm-aid programs, including price supports, is necessary to prevent distress in agriculture.

Holland noted that President Johnson's January budget did not request an appropriation for the full amount of losses suffered by the department's $14.5 billion Commodity Credit Corp. incurred in price-support and other farm-aid operations.

Holland said his subcommittee—acting without dissent—had requested the executive branch early this year to amend its budgetary request to include CCC losses going back to 1961 of a little more than $2 billion. The budget does ask reimbursement of 1964, losses of $2.3 billion.

But, Holland said, the subcommittee request has not been complied with.

"The law requires you to do this," Holland insisted. "But, by not doing so, the government sweeps under the rug the full extent of its operations in the farm-aid field, and as a result the public does not know the full story."

"The Agriculture Department," Holland declared, "is not above the law."

Freeman was hesitant about discussing the matter, saying a budgetary problem is involved. Final word on the budget rests with the White House.

Had the White House requested appropriations for the full CCC losses, the President's budget for the 1966 fiscal year would have gone above $100 billion. The spending estimate now is $99.7 billion.

Holland pressed Freeman as to what has been done about his subcommittee's request for a revision.

Request 'Under Study'

"We have discussed it," Freeman replied. "No decision has been reached yet. We have it under study."

"In other words," Holland said, "all you have done is talk. I don't want to be offensive, but I think you should want to operate your department by businesslike methods. I hope you will be more aggressive on this. We shall insist upon a statement of the corporation's full losses to the end of the 1964 fiscal year."

Freeman indicated he may not fully agree with Holland that the law requires submission to Congress of a request each year for full CCC losses. He told the senator he wants to study the law further.

As of March 1, the CCC had on its books losses totaling around $6.5 billion. This includes slightly more than $4.3 billion through fiscal 1964, and $2.2 billion during the first eight months of the current 1965 fiscal year, ending next June 30.

Miss Gish Greets Nebraskans

Walkout Halts Production At Cudahy Plant

Omaha (AP)— Production was halted at the Omaha plant of the Cudahy Packing Company Thursday in a dispute over a plant-wide efficiency program instituted by the company to cut production costs.

Edward A. Cudahy, 3rd, president of the firm, immediately called a meeting of the board of directors for April 12 to consider "the feasibility of continued operations in Omaha."

Cudahy termed the work stoppage an illegal strike in violation of the company's master contract with the United Packinghouse Workers Union but Anton Armenta, president of UPWA Local 60, termed it a lockout. About 1,400 workers are involved.

Armenta said there had been various violations of the union agreement with Cudahy but meetings with the firm over them have been unsuccessful He charged the company was attempting to hire non-union replacements for employes they had locked out as early as Monday, and non-union workers actually were brought into the plant Wednesday

Pedestrian-Truck Accident Fatal To Aged Wayne Man

Wayne Police Patrolman Keith Reed said Hammer was struck at an intersection one block east of the business district by a truck driven by F. Javorsky, 20, of Wilber. The truck was owned by the Gus Glaser Meats Company of Wilber.

Reed said no charges were filed and that no charges against Javorsky were anticipated

It was the first fatality of the year in Wayne.

Gruhn Sentenced To Jail 30 Days On Tax Evasion

Omaha (UPI) — Glenn A. Gruhn, 45, an Omaha labor service contractor, was sentenced to 30 days in the Douglas County jail after pleading no contest to four counts of income tax evasion.

He was charged in Federal District Court with cheating on his taxes from 1958 to 1961.

Assistant U.S. District Atty. Frederic Coufal said Gruhn declared only $4,323 in 1958 when his income was actually $17,036.92.

He said Gruhn earned $11,731.81 in 1959 and said his income was $4,240. In 1960 he allegedly declared only $4,302.03, while Coufal said the income was $13,913.75.

Coufal said Gruhn said his income totaled $4,407.93 in 1961, while it in reality was $8,041.93.

Shooting Believed Murder, Suicide

Now try...
The smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada!

Next time you're making the drinks, instead of your usual whiskey, use this superior import.

Do what thousands of smart drinkers have done: Compare Windsor Canadian with your usual whiskey. Make two drinks, one with your "usual," the other Windsor. You'll be amazed—as thousands are—at the extra smoothness of Windsor There are three reasons for this!

1. Windsor is distilled and aged in dry, crisp, mile-high Rocky Mountain air.
2. Windsor is made from Western Canadian grain, hearty and vigorous.
3. And the water is clear pure glacial water.

No wonder Windsor is the smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada.

. . . Administration Holding Back, Claims Senator

Holland, chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that handles the Agriculture Department's annual money bill, told Secretary Orville L. Freeman that the executive branch of the government is holding back a final accounting on more than $2 billion in such losses, incurred as far back as 1961.

Freeman appeared before the subcommittee to outline his agency's financial needs for the fiscal year beginning July 1. He insisted that the maintenance of farm-aid programs, including price supports, is necessary to prevent distress in agriculture.

Holland noted that President Johnson's January budget did not request an appropriation for the full amount of losses suffered by the department's $14.5 billion Commodity Credit Corp. incurred in price-support and other farm-aid operations.

Holland said his subcommittee—acting without dissent—had requested the executive branch early this year to amend its budgetary request to include CCC losses going back to 1961 of a little more than $2 billion. The budget does ask reimbursement of 1964, losses of $2.3 billion.

But, Holland said, the subcommittee request has not been complied with.

"The law requires you to do this," Holland insisted. "But, by not doing so, the government sweeps under the rug the full extent of its operations in the farm-aid field, and as a result the public does not know the full story."

Freeman was hesitant about discussing the matter, saying a budgetary problem is involved. Final word on the budget rests with the White House.

Had the White House requested appropriations for the full CCC losses, the President's budget for the 1966 fiscal year would have gone above $100 billion. The spending estimate now is $99.7 billion.

Walkout Halts Production At Cudahy Plant

Omaha (AP)— Production was halted at the Omaha plant of the Cudahy Packing Company Thursday in a dispute over a plant-wide efficiency program instituted by the company to cut production costs.

Edward A. Cudahy, 3rd, president of the firm, immediately called a meeting of the board of directors for April 12 to consider "the feasibility of continued operations in Omaha."

Cudahy termed the work stoppage an illegal strike in violation of the company's master contract with the United Packinghouse Workers Union but Anton Armenta, president of UPWA Local 60, termed it a lockout. About 1,400 workers are involved.

Armenta said there had been various violations of the union agreement with Cudahy but meetings with the firm over them have been unsuccessful. He charged the company was attempting to hire non-union replacements for employes they had locked out as early as Monday, and non-union workers actually were brought into the plant Wednesday.

Pedestrian-Truck Accident Fatal To Aged Wayne Man

Wayne Police Patrolman Keith Reed said Hammer was struck at an intersection one block east of the business district by a truck driven by F. Javorsky, 20, of Wilber. The truck was owned by the Gus Glaser Meats Company of Wilber.

Reed said no charges were filed and that no charges against Javorsky were anticipated.

It was the first fatality of the year in Wayne.

Gruhn Sentenced To Jail 30 Days On Tax Evasion

Omaha (UPI) — Glenn A. Gruhn, 45, an Omaha labor service contractor, was sentenced to 30 days in the Douglas County jail after pleading no contest to four counts of income tax evasion.

He was charged in Federal District Court with cheating on his taxes from 1958 to 1961.

Assistant U.S. District Atty. Frederic Coufal said Gruhn declared only $4,323 in 1958 when his income was actually $17,036.92.

He said Gruhn earned $11,731.81 in 1959 and said his income was $4,240. In 1960 he allegedly declared only $4,302.03, while Coufal said the income was $13,913.75.

Coufal said Gruhn said his income totaled $4,407.93 in 1961, while it in reality was $8,041.93.

Shooting Believed Murder, Suicide

Omaha (AP)—An Omaha man and his wife were found dead in their home Thursday, the apparent victims of a shooting incident.

Police identified them as Lloyd M. Hook, 63, and his wife, Helen V. Hook.

Investigating officers said it appeared the husband shot his wife when she returned home Wednesday night, then went into a bedroom and shot himself.

QUALITATE NON COMPARABILI

Now try... The smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada!

Next time you're making the drinks, instead of your usual whiskey, use this superior import.

Do what thousands of smart drinkers have done: Compare Windsor Canadian with your usual whiskey. Make two drinks, one with your "usual," the other Windsor. You'll be amazed—as thousands are—at the extra smoothness of Windsor There are three reasons for this!

1. Windsor is distilled and aged in dry, crisp, mile-high Rocky Mountain air.
2. Windsor is made from Western Canadian grain, hearty and vigorous.
3. And the water is clear pure glacial water.

No wonder Windsor is the smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada.

Yet this uniquely smooth, elegant import is priced right in line with leading popular-priced whiskeys. Try it.

The Place Where You Live

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Soon to be in high gear is the drive for $1,750,000 in funds for a hospital building program in Lincoln. Some parts of the drive are already in high gear, a few parts are even completed, but the big hurdle must yet be jumped. This is the approach to all the people of Lincoln on an individual basis.

Every citizen of this community will be asked to contribute to this fund, even if it is only 50 cents or a dollar a week they might feel they can contribute. Some will not give anything and others will be more than generous. Not all those who refuse to contribute will be unable financially to do so; they just will not have bothered to think much about the meaning of their position. For one thing, they will blithely consider the fact that they have always had good hospital care in the past and they will assume that this will be true in the future.

Taking It For Granted

After all, they reason, no one is just going to be left to die in the streets. Perhaps not but such a position is the epitome of stupidity and the height of selfishness. Do these people also believe that the hospital services they demand for their lives are provided by the wave of a magic wand?

No, they know better than this. What they want to do but refuse to admit is to live off the sacrifice of someone else. They want the hospital facilities that their good health demands and they know such facilities must be paid for but they just don't want to pay their fair share. They want to let somebody else pay the bill so they can save their money for a more pleasurable expenditure.

Others will find reasons to attack the program that has been proposed. A joint effort such as this was a mistake, locating St. Elizabeth's at 70th and N was wrong, there are already too many things to give to, the doctors ought to provide the hospitals, medical costs are already too high, patients ought to pay for new hospitals and on and on ad infinitum. There has never been and none of us will ever see the perfect proposition. But more important, those who want to wait for perfection will be buried in the stampede of the rest of humanity moving forward to constantly higher levels of achievement. Wait for perfection and wait alone and lonely.

Some will say that St. Elizabeth's is getting 70 percent of the fund drive receipts and they will be right. They won't like that, either, and there they will be wrong. What they won't stop to realize is that Bryan Memorial has already received substantial community support in acquiring a fine, new, modern hospital plant. What they won't stop to realize is that Lincoln General is already building the same kind of fine, new, modern plant because of the community help it has received, the aid of a city tax levy and the cooperation of St. Elizabeth's and Bryan Memorial. What they won't stop to realize is that where there is a heavy benefit one place to one institution, there is a corresponding benefit somewhere else to another institution.

It probably will never be considered by some people that this hospital drive is one of the finest things that has ever happened to Lincoln and one of the greatest opportunities this city has ever had. In this drive and the program it represents, private hospitals have come to respect and cooperate with the one public institution and vice versa.

In this drive, Protestant, Catholic and Jew have sat in earnest consultation with each other and come away in unity and with mutual admiration. Men with money have sometimes prevailed and sometimes bowed to the thoughts of men of modest means.

Men and women of tremendous difference in their social, political and economic philosophy have found a common ground on which to walk for one single purpose — the overall welfare of their community and the life itself of its people. Old animosities, prejudices and selfish interests have been buried in an almost amazing realization of the higher good that is within our reach through the hospital program now being sought. And then, there are the facts—the facts of current bed inadequacies and the promise of otherwise impossible savings as a result of the program embarked upon.

The Common Goal

No, probably no one will be left to die in the streets, regardless of the success or failure of this fund drive. But why? Only because there are dedicated people who, despite all adversity, will never stop serving the needs of humanity. If you want to pass your responsibility on to these people, if you want to turn a deaf ear and look with a jaundiced eye at the meaning and significance of the chance you have for something totally good, worthwhile and essential, button up your pocketbook and don't give a nickel when asked to do so for the community hospital fund drive.

Stassen Blocks Sale Of Alien Property

WASHINGTON — Harold Stassen, one-time governor of Minnesota and GOP candidate for president, today (April 9) is arguing a suit unique in postwar history—a claim against the Justice and Treasury departments to block the disposal of $123,000,000 acquired from Nazi property seized in the United States.

Stassen is suing on behalf of two former inmates of Nazi slave labor camps who were brutally treated by I. G. Farben, the giant cartel which owned an American subsidiary, General Aniline and Film, expropriated under the Alien Property Act.

One Nazi victim, Wally Kelberine, was an inmate of two slave labor camps, Dachau and Buchenwald. The Nazis also killed her husband and seized her millinery store and a factory.

The other victim, Lenka Berlin, lost all her property. Her brothers were killed and she was forced to work in slave labor camps.

The plaintiffs and Gov. Stassen claim that the Justice Department, which under Bobby Kennedy had sold the assets of General Aniline and Film, has no right to turn part of the $123,000,000 back to Interhandel which previous attorneys general have found to be a Swiss cloaking operation for Farben. Bobby Kennedy, when attorney general, claimed it was not.

President Johnson has been handing out a disturbing document to members of Congress who are invited to the White House for private question-and-answer sessions.

Prepared by the Defense Department, the document gives the grisly estimates on how many people would be killed in the opening salvos of a nuclear war with Russia.

In a footnote, the document explains reassuringly: "These fatalities are associated with the force levels shown. They, of course, represent but a fraction of our total force."

On the next page is an even more frightening statistic. Under the heading "U.S. Fatalities from Soviet Strike," the grim prediction is given that 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 Americans would be killed.

Klans Reflecting South's Sentiment

WASHINGTON — Chairman Edwin E. Willis of the House Un-American Activities committee has already discovered that the Ku Klux Klan is not a centrally directed and tightly organized conspiracy against the peace and order of the South.

Klans exist, all right, where the ruling whites have planted their feet against the rise of the Negro of full citizenship. Right now klans are willing, even eager, to put a stop to it.

Whether they are also willing to abate the endemic racism of the Deep South, which is the real cause of recent appalling events, is another question. So long as racism and obstinate opposition to Negro progress continue, the Klans, which are only a symbol, will spring up to express it in ways "nice people" deplore.

How all this will affect what Democratic leaders pride themselves on as a neat solution for letting out the steam of public outrage remains to be seen.

Conservative segregationists rejoiced when the Klan inquiry was channeled to the Un-American committee with its obsession for the conspiracy theory of history. It has persistently classed every form of liberal thought with communism.

Liberals subjected to the committee's venom through the years believe the fox has been put in charge of the chicken coop. They expect the Klan to emerge as the scapegoat for Southern racism and consider the investigation a mere curtain-raiser to a full-scale probe of communist influence in the civil rights movement.

The committee's history affords ample backing to both points of view. Their present relevance depends heavily upon Willis and, to a lesser degree, upon the committee freshman, Rep. Charles Weltner, the young Atlanta moderate now in his second term, who first pressed a Klan investigation.

Willis' colleagues like him and consider him basically a lawyer with respect for law, sensible and fair. They report that he has not acquired the obsession with communism which blighted the once-promising career of his immediate predecessor, the late, brilliant Francis (Tad) Walter of Pennsylvania.

Willis is from Louisiana and his committee is predominantly Southern and conservation. Of his third district he says cheerfully, "We're Cajuns. We like life and we live and let live." The Klan, so active and influential in other Louisiana districts, does not exist in the third, he says, and 56.8 per cent of the district's Negroes of voting age are registered. Three-fourths of them also voted.

Still, Willis has largely retained Walter's old staff, and informed estimates of it range from "terrible" to "paranoid."

Executive branch liaison with it charges that it does not keep the promises made by either Walter or Willis. The dependence of congressional committees on staff is notorious, and agreement is general that Willis will find this a serious handicap.

The politicians who steered the Klan investigation to Un-American Activities were opportunists. They wanted Southern chairman to make it immune from charges of communist influence; the implied insult to the rest of the country did not trouble them. They are happy that Willis is also a Catholic.

Winter Fuel Cues In Spring

By MONA B. PARKER

Monty of the Mail knows why spring has come to Morrill, at long last . . .

Marlin Waechter was discussing, in the Stanton Register, some of the outstanding feats of outer space, and surmising further what some of the future results and developments might be. And deciding to leave the accomplishment of same to the resilience of youth . . .

"There was a day when this old hulk did a lot of flying (WWII B-24 bombers). But those days are gone forever. We're strictly earthbound now, and find our nose bleeds about the 10th step up a high ladder. We'll leave the moon to the spacemen and lovers. We hate to say it but we couldn't qualify as either!"

Art Brown, in the Friend Sentinel, lends a humorous note to a matter that often has grim sidelights . . .

"Sheets today come in such gay colors and prints that a Klan meeting should be a rather sporty event."

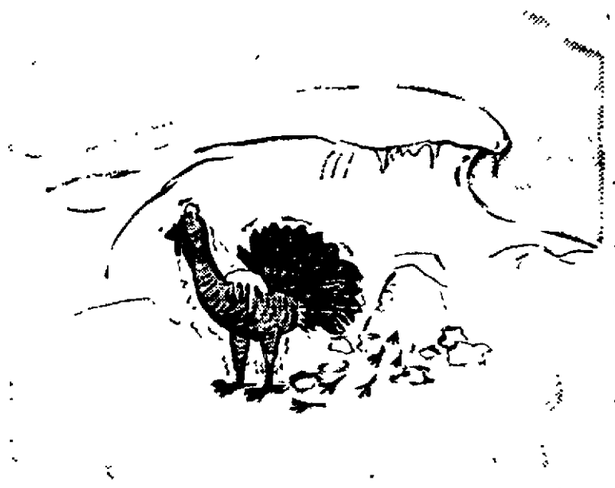
Grace Curtis lists one of her pet peeves in the Lyman Leader, and will find many a sympathetic nod from among the cooking sisterhood. And it isn't an irritation that lessens over the years, or even remains stationery. It grows, she says . . .

It begins with those times "when we stray from the tried and true recipes, that is, the favorite dishes of the male half of this particular combination. We become adventuresome in trying a new kind of recipe. When we ask him how he likes it, even if he eats seconds of it, he'll nonchalantly reply, 'Oh, it's not so bad!! Gr-r-r! Just how bad is 'not so bad' or how good is it until it becomes bad!?"



We've always heard what frail creatures turkeys are—how growers dread such things as ice storms, with birds out in the open and unprotected, or a downpour of rain, or even a heavy dew. Seems that they just collapse under any provocation, and that a large part of this is temperament. All of this made the turkey tom belonging to David Hotovy most unusual. Missing since the March 1 blizzard, the tough little bird reappeared on March 26. He was found buried in an eight-foot snowdrift, alive and healthy except for frozen toes and a loss of weight. During the more than three weeks, he had dropped from 30 pounds to 17. A large Pekin duck missing during the same time also showed up and was presumed to have been buried in the snow, too.

Every time John Sanders of the Auburn Press-Tribune hears the tune, "Alley Cat," he thinks of the family feline, Julius. Julius is a character, he chuckles, and the syncopated rhythm of the melody calls up a picture of the old tom cat, "strutting down the street, calling at every home, independent of all normal responsibility, capable of whipping or bluffing any antagonist, and apparent master of his destiny."

The Western Nebraska Observer has been doing some rearranging as far as page make-up is concerned, and, as with all changes, it meets with the approval of some readers and has an adverse effect on others. A Sidney reader who recently renewed expressed her dislike of the new look.

"I don't like the arrangement of your paper, any more," she wrote. "But being as I have read it for 58 years, will continue taking it."

That, conceded the Kimball publication is real loyalty."

The Kearney Hub tells of an executive for a telephone company whose area covers three states and the very pertinent token he hands out to friends and associates not only emphasizing his business connections but insisting on them, in a manner of speaking.

The momentoes are pencils and printed on the pencils are the large red letters, "Don't Write — Telephone." The gift pencils have erasers at both ends.

Turning A New Phrase

President Johnson has introduced a new phrase into United States foreign policy. He stated in regards to Viet Nam that this nation was ready at any time for "unconditional discussions" of a peace settlement of that Asian conflict.

The term used is one generally applied in time of war and by the apparent or soon-to-be victor. In the past, the United States has demanded unconditional surrender of its enemies but has now put the shoe on the other foot and in different circumstances.

Actually, the term represents no significant shift in U.S. policy. What it does is strengthen and clarify the policy we have always had. We have all along been ready and willing to negotiate a settlement in Viet Nam. The problem has been that the communists are not willing to talk unless they are first granted a military victory and to this the United States is not about to agree.

Coupled with his promised negotiation, the President went on to propose a $1 billion U.S. aid program for development of Southeast Asia. Whether this is the right answer or not and whether it is practical is one thing but it does recognize the nature of the real Asian problem.

The real problem is not a military but an economic and political one. Peace in Asia will always be hanging by a thread until that part of the world can develop to the point where it can adequately support its teeming millions of people. It is at least encouraging that this has finally been officially recognized and that earnest thought is being given to some solution.

Spain's Future

The bitter, bloody Spanish civil war came to an end in April 1939—27 years ago. The liberal movement was crushed. The country has been under the rule of the Franco dictatorship ever since. And each year the victory is duly celebrated in Spain.

But we wonder how much of a victory it was. Certainly it preserved a favorable economic and social position for the dictator and his political party, the military, the landed, and big business. But general poverty continues, and so does unrest.

The Roman Catholic church, stirred within by a desire for reform, is making its influence more greatly felt. The poor continue to feel wronged, and the students are muttering.

Benefitting largely from generous American aid in return for military accomodations Spain has experienced a recent economic resurgence. The rich are growing richer, but the mumerous poor, who have gained little if anything, are restive.

And now Franco, the dictator, is growing old. He is talking of making some concessions, but only such concessions as may extend the survival of his regime. There is world wide concern now for what may happen in Spain when Franco passes. Perhaps another period of bitterness and bloodshed is in store.

The trouble with the Franco regime is that while it was able to defeat some people it was not able to destroy the wrongs that existed. It only succeeded in supressing the effort for human justice. It only postponed the day of reckoning.

We can only hope that the wrongs that exist in Spain can be largely righted peaceably. But injustice cannot be killed. It can only be remedied.

Fairly Heavy Gift

Some 2,000 years ago after the Roman army had beaten Egypt into submission the next phase of the aid program was to build Roman temples. That gave the unemployed Egyptians something to do at little cost to the Roman empire.

The Temple of Dendur was one such project. It was completed upstream on the Nile about 30BC. It is a reasonably good example of Roman architecture and Egyptian toil. And being built out of huge blocks of stone it has never had plumbing problems and has enjoyed great longevity.

And that's the way it would have been for years and years more, but Egypt recently had a revolution and became the United Arab Republic. This time it got more foreign aid and began building the Aswan dam. The backwater from that enormous undertaking spelled doom for the temple which, although 30 miles upstream, was destined for submersion.

The Egyptians foresightedly took the temple apart, stone by stone and hauled the parts to high ground.

Now Egypt has offered the temple to the United States as a gift, complete with directions of how to put it back together. Presently it is the world's biggest jig saw puzzle. But its size and problems offer a challenge to a great country and we will probably work out some way of trying ourselves out on it.

But there are a few hitches in the deal. The recipient will have to foot the bill to transport the huge building stone 700 miles down the Nile, one by one, preparatory to loading them on ships for the big ocean ride halfway around the world. That's almost enough to unbalance the budget of even a big nation. Perhaps we would be better off with just a thank you card from Egypt.

Partisan Or Not?

Lincoln, Neb.

Leo Beck, director of state veterans affairs, is all wrong if he thinks the attempt to close the Lincoln Veterans Hospital isn't partisan politics. He is all steaming mad because of a statement of Senator Carl Curtis in which he said the Democrats were back of the attempt to close the hospital.

I am surprised that Mr. Beck is so naive. Does he not believe the Johnson administration is back of the move? Does he not think that a word from the President would call off the threatened closing of the hospital? Let me quote from a statement of the national commander of the American Legion, Dan Johnson (April, 1965, American Legion Magazine):

"What's behind the VA closings? . . . The current attack, master-minded by the Bureau of the Budget, is designed to carry out by executive order edicts of commissions of Hoover and Bradley which Congress rejected. Their aim is to remove the VA as the federal agency serving veterans and to parcel out its responsibilities under a social welfare scheme."

Now, isn't that partisan politics? I am inclined to think maybe Mr. Beck is boosting his boss, Governor Morrison, by criticizing Senator Curtis—two who just might be political opponents in the next election.

Interstate View

Lincoln, Neb.

I don't know what the current status is of the argument between those who want to plaster the Interstate route with billboards and those who want to keep the scenic route as nearly natural as possible, but I sincerely hope the billboard opponents continue in their valiant fight.

It had been some time since I had driven out over the stretch of Interstate that reaches westward from Lincoln about 20 miles, but I had occasion to recently and was pleasantly surprised to see the clusters of plantings of evergreens that have been added here and there along the way. It was some small indication of what could be done with out highways and to beautify our state in general and is, I am sure, only a beginning in plans along that line.

Perhaps there is yet hope for this conservative state of ours, in emerging from its see-nothing, hear-nothing, do-nothing frame of mind that has held us back so long while others all about us are progressing.

The Place Where You Live

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Soon to be in high gear is the drive for $1,750,000 in funds for a hospital building program in Lincoln. Some parts of the drive are already in high gear, a few parts are even completed, but the big hurdle must yet be jumped. This is the approach to all the people of Lincoln on an individual basis.

Every citizen of this community will be asked to contribute to this fund, even if it is only 50 cents or a dollar a week they might feel they can contribute. Some will not give anything and others will be more than generous. Not all those who refuse to contribute will be unable financially to do so; they just will not have bothered to think much about the meaning of their position. For one thing, they will blithely consider the fact that they have always had good hospital care in the past and they will assume that this will be true in the future.

Taking It For Granted

After all, they reason, no one is just going to be left to die in the streets. Perhaps not but such a position is the epitome of stupidity and the height of selfishness. Do these people also believe that the hospital services they demand for their lives are provided by the wave of a magic wand?

No, they know better than this. What they want to do but refuse to admit is to live off the sacrifice of someone else. They want the hospital facilities that their good health demands and they know such facilities must be paid for but they just don't want to pay their fair share. They want to let somebody else pay the bill so they can save their money for a more pleasurable expenditure.

Others will find reasons to attack the program that has been proposed. A joint effort such as this was a mistake, locating St. Elizabeth's at 70th and N was wrong, there are already too many things to give to, the doctors ought to provide the hospitals, medical costs are already too high, patients ought to pay for new hospitals and on and on ad infinitum. There has never been and none of us will ever see the perfect proposition. But more important, those who want to wait for perfection will be buried in the stampede of the rest of humanity moving forward to constantly higher levels of achievement. Wait for perfection and wait alone and lonely.

Some will say that St. Elizabeth's is getting 70 percent of the fund drive receipts and they will be right. They won't like that, either, and there they will be wrong. What they won't stop to realize is that Bryan Memorial has already received substantial community support in acquiring a fine, new, modern hospital plant. What they won't stop to realize is that Lincoln General is already building the same kind of fine, new, modern plant because of the community help it has received, the aid of a city tax levy and the cooperation of St. Elizabeth's and Bryan Memorial. What they won't stop to realize is that where there is a heavy benefit one place to one institution, there is a corresponding benefit somewhere else to another institution.

It probably will never be considered by some people that this hospital drive is one of the finest things that has ever happened to Lincoln and one of the greatest opportunities this city has ever had. In this drive and the program it represents, private hospitals have come to respect and cooperate with the one public institution and vice versa.

In this drive, Protestant, Catholic and Jew have sat in earnest consultation with each other and come away in unity and with mutual admiration. Men with money have sometimes prevailed and sometimes bowed to the thoughts of men of modest means.

Men and women of tremendous difference in their social, political and economic philosophy have found a common ground on which to walk for one single purpose — the overall welfare of their community and the life itself of its people. Old animosities, prejudices and selfish interests have been buried in an almost amazing realization of the higher good that is within our reach through the hospital program now being sought. And then, there are the facts—the facts of current bed inadequacies and the promise of otherwise impossible savings as a result of the program embarked upon.

The Common Goal

No, probably no one will be left to die in the streets, regardless of the success or failure of this fund drive. But why? Only because there are dedicated people who, despite all adversity, will never stop serving the needs of humanity. If you want to pass your responsibility on to these people, if you want to turn a deaf ear and look with a jaundiced eye at the meaning and significance of the chance you have for something totally good, worthwhile and essential, button up your pocketbook and don't give a nickel when asked to do so for the community hospital fund drive.

Turning A New Phrase

President Johnson has introduced a new phrase into United States foreign policy. He stated in regards to Viet Nam that this nation was ready at any time for "unconditional discussions" of a peace settlement of that Asian conflict.

The term used is one generally applied in time of war and by the apparent or soon-to-be victor. In the past, the United States has demanded unconditional surrender of its enemies but has now put the shoe on the other foot and in different circumstances.

Actually, the term represents no significant shift in U.S. policy. What it does is strengthen and clarify the policy we have always had. We have all along been ready and willing to negotiate a settlement in Viet Nam. The problem has been that the communists are not willing to talk unless they are first granted a military victory and to this the United States is not about to agree.

Coupled with his promised negotiation, the President went on to propose a $1 billion U.S. aid program for development of Southeast Asia. Whether this is the right answer or not and whether it is practical is one thing but it does recognize the nature of the real Asian problem.

The real problem is not a military but an economic and political one. Peace in Asia will always be hanging by a thread until that part of the world can develop to the point where it can adequately support its teeming millions of people. It is at least encouraging that this has finally been officially recognized and that earnest thought is being given to some solution.

Spain's Future

The bitter, bloody Spanish civil war came to an end in April 1939—27 years ago. The liberal movement was crushed. The country has been under the rule of the Franco dictatorship ever since. And each year the victory is duly celebrated in Spain.

But we wonder how much of a victory it was. Certainly it preserved a favorable economic and social position for the dictator and his political party, the military, the landed, and big business. But general poverty continues, and so does unrest.

The Roman Catholic church, stirred within by a desire for reform, is making its influence more greatly felt. The poor continue to feel wronged, and the students are muttering.

Benefitting largely from generous American aid in return for military accomodations Spain has experienced a recent economic resurgence. The rich are growing richer, but the mumerous poor, who have gained little if anything, are restive.

And now Franco, the dictator, is growing old. He is talking of making some concessions, but only such concessions as may extend the survival of his regime. There is world wide concern now for what may happen in Spain when Franco passes. Perhaps another period of bitterness and bloodshed is in store.

The trouble with the Franco regime is that while it was able to defeat some people it was not able to destroy the wrongs that existed. It only succeeded in supressing the effort for human justice. It only postponed the day of reckoning.

We can only hope that the wrongs that exist in Spain can be largely righted peaceably. But injustice cannot be killed. It can only be remedied.

Fairly Heavy Gift

Some 2,000 years ago after the Roman army had beaten Egypt into submission the next phase of the aid program was to build Roman temples. That gave the unemployed Egyptians something to do at little cost to the Roman empire.

The Temple of Dendur was one such project. It was completed upstream on the Nile about 30BC. It is a reasonably good example of Roman architecture and Egyptian toil. And being built out of huge blocks of stone it has never had plumbing problems and has enjoyed great longevity.

And that's the way it would have been for years and years more, but Egypt recently had a revolution and became the United Arab Republic. This time it got more foreign aid and began building the Aswan dam. The backwater from that enormous undertaking spelled doom for the temple which, although 30 miles upstream, was destined for submersion.

The Egyptians foresightedly took the temple apart, stone by stone and hauled the parts to high ground.

Now Egypt has offered the temple to the United States as a gift, complete with directions of how to put it back together. Presently it is the world's biggest jig saw puzzle. But its size and problems offer a challenge to a great country and we will probably work out some way of trying ourselves out on it.

But there are a few hitches in the deal. The recipient will have to foot the bill to transport the huge building stone 700 miles down the Nile, one by one, preparatory to loading them on ships for the big ocean ride halfway around the world. That's almost enough to unbalance the budget of even a big nation. Perhaps we would be better off with just a thank you card from Egypt.

Stassen Blocks Sale Of Alien Property

WASHINGTON — Harold Stassen, one-time governor of Minnesota and GOP candidate for president, today (April 9) is arguing a suit unique in postwar history—a claim against the Justice and Treasury departments to block the disposal of $123,000,000 acquired from Nazi property seized in the United States.

Stassen is suing on behalf of two former inmates of Nazi slave labor camps who were brutally treated by I. G. Farben, the giant cartel which owned an American subsidiary, General Aniline and Film, expropriated under the Alien Property Act.

One Nazi victim, Wally Kelberine, was an inmate of two slave labor camps, Dachau and Buchenwald. The Nazis also killed her husband and seized her millinery store and a factory.

The other victim, Lenka Berlin, lost all her property. Her brothers were killed and she was forced to work in slave labor camps.

The plaintiffs and Gov. Stassen claim that the Justice Department, which under Bobby Kennedy had sold the assets of General Aniline and Film, has no right to turn part of the $123,000,000 back to Interhandel which previous attorneys general have found to be a Swiss cloaking operation for Farben. Bobby Kennedy, when attorney general, claimed it was not.

President Johnson has been handing out a disturbing document to members of Congress who are invited to the White House for private question-and-answer sessions.

Prepared by the Defense Department, the document gives the grisly estimates on how many people would be killed in the opening salvos of a nuclear war with Russia.

In a footnote, the document explains reassuringly: "These fatalities are associated with the force levels shown. They, of course, represent but a fraction of our total force."

On the next page is an even more frightening statistic. Under the heading "U.S. Fatalities from Soviet Strike," the grim prediction is given that 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 Americans would be killed.

Klans Reflecting South's Sentiment

WASHINGTON — Chairman Edwin E. Willis of the House Un-American Activities committee has already discovered that the Ku Klux Klan is not a centrally directed and tightly organized conspiracy against the peace and order of the South.

Klans exist, all right, where the ruling whites have planted their feet against the rise of the Negro of full citizenship. Right now klans are willing, even eager, to put a stop to it.

Whether they are also willing to abate the endemic racism of the Deep South, which is the real cause of recent appalling events, is another question. So long as racism and obstinate opposition to Negro progress continue, the Klans, which are only a symbol, will spring up to express it in ways "nice people" deplore.

How all this will affect what Democratic leaders pride themselves on as a neat solution for letting out the steam of public outrage remains to be seen.

Conservative segregationists rejoiced when the Klan inquiry was channeled to the Un-American committee with its obsession for the conspiracy theory of history. It has persistently classed every form of liberal thought with communism.

Liberals subjected to the committee's venom through the years believe the fox has been put in charge of the chicken coop. They expect the Klan to emerge as the scapegoat for Southern racism and consider the investigation a mere curtain-raiser to a full-scale probe of communist influence in the civil rights movement.

The committee's history affords ample backing to both points of view. Their present relevance depends heavily upon Willis and, to a lesser degree, upon the committee freshman, Rep. Charles Weltner, the young Atlanta moderate now in his second term, who first pressed a Klan investigation.

Willis' colleagues like him and consider him basically a lawyer with respect for law, sensible and fair. They report that he has not acquired the obsession with communism which blighted the once-promising career of his immediate predecessor, the late, brilliant Francis (Tad) Walter of Pennsylvania.

Willis is from Louisiana and his committee is predominantly Southern and conservation. Of his third district he says cheerfully, "We're Cajuns. We like life and we live and let live." The Klan, so active and influential in other Louisiana districts, does not exist in the third, he says, and 56.8 per cent of the district's Negroes of voting age are registered. Three-fourths of them also voted.

Still, Willis has largely retained Walter's old staff, and informed estimates of it range from "terrible" to "paranoid."

Executive branch liaison with it charges that it does not keep the promises made by either Walter or Willis. The dependence of congressional committees on staff is notorious, and agreement is general that Willis will find this a serious handicap.

The politicians who steered the Klan investigation to Un-American Activities were opportunists. They wanted Southern chairman to make it immune from charges of communist influence; the implied insult to the rest of the country did not trouble them. They are happy that Willis is also a Catholic.

Partisan Or Not?

Lincoln, Neb.

Leo Beck, director of state veterans affairs, is all wrong if he thinks the attempt to close the Lincoln Veterans Hospital isn't partisan politics. He is all steaming mad because of a statement of Senator Carl Curtis in which he said the Democrats were back of the attempt to close the hospital.

I am surprised that Mr. Beck is so naive. Does he not believe the Johnson administration is back of the move? Does he not think that a word from the President would call off the threatened closing of the hospital? Let me quote from a statement of the national commander of the American Legion, Dan Johnson (April, 1965, American Legion Magazine):

"What's behind the VA closings? . . . The current attack, master-minded by the Bureau of the Budget, is designed to carry out by executive order edicts of commissions of Hoover and Bradley which Congress rejected. Their aim is to remove the VA as the federal agency serving veterans and to parcel out its responsibilities under a social welfare scheme."

Now, isn't that partisan politics? I am inclined to think maybe Mr. Beck is boosting his boss, Governor Morrison, by criticizing Senator Curtis—two who just might be political opponents in the next election.

Attempt To Revive Omaha Annexation Measure Fails

Sen. Richard Proud attempted Thursday to revive his Omaha annexation bill, LB379, which had been killed by the Legislature's Government Committee, but the lawmakers voted down the motion 22-20.

LB379 would have required an approving vote of the people in the area being annexed before Omaha could annex any part of an incorporated city or village.

Ralston and Millard are the Douglas County communities chiefly involved.

The Government Committee killed the bill after receiving assurances from five present city councilmen, the city attorney and his deputy that they would resist any annexation of Ralston and Millard in the next two years. The breather period would permit the Legislature to conduct an interim study of annexation problems in general as has been proposed in a pending resolution.

Sen. Proud denied that his bill was designed to strangle Omaha's growth.

"If I thought this bill was going to strangle Omaha I would withdraw it because I live inside the Omaha city limits," he declared.

But Proud said it's the small neighboring towns that are in danger of being strangled.

Sen. Proud said the issue is the right of about 10,000 persons in the small towns of Douglas County to vote and determine their future.

Proud's fellow Omaha senators were among the speakers denouncing the bill.

Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha said "the bill we have here today would be revolutionary." He said it would upset annexation laws which have functioned since 1919.

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha termed the measure a monstrosity and said it carries a threat that Omaha's growth will be curtailed just as Missouri has curbed the growth of St. Louis and Ohio has curbed the growth of Cleveland.

But Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, supporting Proud's position, said "the reason Omaha doesn't want to have a vote is because they don't think they can carry it."

Carpenter said Omaha "is not strangled, is not curtailed in any iota or circumstance."

Pledges to oppose any Omaha annexation of Ralston or Millard had come from councilmen Harry Trustin, Albert L. Veys, Arthur D. Bradley, H. Fred Jacobberger and Stephen T. Novak.

Proud noted that one of the five was defeated for renomination.

Gerdes: Protests Should Go To Regents, Not Legislature

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance said Thursday University of Nebraska students concerned over proposed tuition increases should protest to the Board of Regents, not the Legislature.

Gerdes said the Budget Committee in recommending resident rates be hiked 25% and nonresident rates 50% was only following a suggestion made by university administrators.

"At a public hearing on the university's budget the school administrators suggested a raise in tuition as a means of implementing LB826," Gerdes said.

LB826 is the bill to enable the university to issue long-term revenue bonds to finance a campus construction program It currently is stalled in the Legislature.

Gerdes issued the statement after noting in the Daily Nebraskan, student newspaper, that a petition drive was underway to protest the proposal to the Legislature.

"They should do the protesting to the Board of Regent because it was the board that made the original suggestion. The committee was only doing what they proposed," he said.

Gerdes is vice-chairman of the Budget Committee.

Noncontroversial Bills Advanced

The Nebraksa Legislature gave preliminary approval to eight noncontroversial bills Thursday.

Included was a measure, LB274, to divert all money received under the state's driver education program into the general fund. The vote was 35-0.

Other legislation handed first-round okay:

LB882—Clarifying a bill passed earlier in the session allowing museum boards to issue revenue bonds (38-0)

LB832—Harmonizing the law covering jurisdiction of magistrates in criminal cases with the State Constitution (35-0)

LB834—Submitting to voters a constitutional amendment providing for the removal of retired or disabled judges. (29-0)

LB835—Providing for notice of appeal from municipal courts in Lincoln and Omaha. (33-0).

LB837—Clarifying that affidavits may be made before attorneys involved in the matter at issue. (37-0).

Attempt To Revive Omaha Annexation Measure Fails

Sen. Richard Proud attempted Thursday to revive his Omaha annexation bill, LB379, which had been killed by the Legislature's Government Committee, but the lawmakers voted down the motion 22-20.

LB379 would have required an approving vote of the people in the area being annexed before Omaha could annex any part of an incorporated city or village.

Ralston and Millard are the Douglas County communities chiefly involved.

The Government Committee killed the bill after receiving assurances from five present city councilmen, the city attorney and his deputy that they would resist any annexation of Ralston and Millard in the next two years. The breather period would permit the Legislature to conduct an interim study of annexation problems in general as has been proposed in a pending resolution.

Sen. Proud denied that his bill was designed to strangle Omaha's growth.

"If I thought this bill was going to strangle Omaha I would withdraw it because I live inside the Omaha city limits," he declared.

But Proud said it's the small neighboring towns that are in danger of being strangled.

Sen. Proud said the issue is the right of about 10,000 persons in the small towns of Douglas County to vote and determine their future.

Proud's fellow Omaha senators were among the speakers denouncing the bill.

Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha said "the bill we have here today would be revolutionary." He said it would upset annexation laws which have functioned since 1919.

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha termed the measure a monstrosity and said it carries a threat that Omaha's growth will be curtailed just as Missouri has curbed the growth of St. Louis and Ohio has curbed the growth of Cleveland.

But Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, supporting Proud's position, said "the reason Omaha doesn't want to have a vote is because they don't think they can carry it."

Carpenter said Omaha "is not strangled, is not curtailed in any iota or circumstance."

Pledges to oppose any Omaha annexation of Ralston or Millard had come from councilmen Harry Trustin, Albert L. Veys, Arthur D. Bradley, H. Fred Jacobberger and Stephen T. Novak.

Proud noted that one of the five was defeated for renomination.

Gerdes: Protests Should Go To Regents, Not Legislature

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance said Thursday University of Nebraska students concerned over proposed tuition increases should protest to the Board of Regents, not the Legislature.

Gerdes said the Budget Committee in recommending resident rates be hiked 25% and nonresident rates 50% was only following a suggestion made by university administrators.

"At a public hearing on the university's budget the school administrators suggested a raise in tuition as a means of implementing LB826," Gerdes said.

LB826 is the bill to enable the university to issue long-term revenue bonds to finance a campus construction program It currently is stalled in the Legislature.

Gerdes issued the statement after noting in the Daily Nebraskan, student newspaper, that a petition drive was underway to protest the proposal to the Legislature.

"They should do the protesting to the Board of Regent because it was the board that made the original suggestion. The committee was only doing what they proposed," he said.

Gerdes is vice-chairman of the Budget Committee.

Noncontroversial Bills Advanced

The Nebraksa Legislature gave preliminary approval to eight noncontroversial bills Thursday.

Included was a measure, LB274, to divert all money received under the state's driver education program into the general fund. The vote was 35-0.

Other legislation handed first-round okay:

LB882—Clarifying a bill passed earlier in the session allowing museum boards to issue revenue bonds. (38-0).

LB832—Harmonizing the law covering jurisdiction of magistrates in criminal cases with the State Constitution. (35-0).

LB834—Submitting to voters a constitutional amendment providing for the removal of retired or disabled judges. (29-0).

LB835—Providing for notice of appeal from municipal courts in Lincoln and Omaha. (33-0).

LB837—Clarifying that affidavits may be made before attorneys involved in the matter at issue. (37-0).

LB838—Revising the method of determining inheritance tax. (34-0).

GOP School Bill Challenges Beaten

Washington (UPI)—Administration forces beat back the first Republican-led challenges to President Johnson's $1.3 billion school aid bill in the Senate Thursday and pushed for approval of the measure without change.

If they are successful, the House-passed bill could be on Johnson's desk Friday—the first bill in history to give major federal aid to elementary and secondary schools.

The major hurdle was a 53 to 38 rejection of efforts by Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., to change the basic formula for allocating federal asssistance under the bill. Dominick said the administration formula was unfair and would result in more money for rich areas than for poor ones.

But Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., leading the successful fight against Dominick's amendment, said the bill was not designed to erase educational differences between states but to "narrow the gap" between good and poor schools within a state.

The first test of the day was another Dominick amendment, defeated 49 to 39 even though some Southern Democrats voted with Republicans on that one.

Dominick had sought to require that state agencies approve applications for supplemental education centers to be established under a $100 million provision of the bill.

Rejection of Dominick's amendment was followed by 56-38 rejection of one by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., to change the formula for allotting funds to the states under the same portion of the bill. The Senate also rejected, 59 to 32, an amendment by Sen. James B. Pearson, R-Kan., to liberalize the "tapering off period" for school districts due to lose federal aid because of closing of defense establishments.

Escapee From Lincoln City Jail Escapes Again

Larry Redinger, 22, who escaped from the Lincoln city jail March 23rd and was captured in Agra, Kan., on March 24th, escaped from the county jail at Phillipsburg, Kan., Wednesday, Lincoln police learned Thursday.

Police Chief Virgil Hagen of Stockton, Kan., where Redinger was temporarily held, told The Star Redinger had pried apart the bars of the Phillipsburg jail and made his exit about noon Wednesday.

A vehicle reported stolen in Phillipsburg shortly after the escape was located in Kirwin, Kan., a few hours later, Hagen said. A burglary committed in Kirwin Wednesday evening and the theft of a 1955 model automobile were believed linked with Redinger's escape.

Hagen said Redinger is thought to be heading south.

Tunnels Sink Yugoslav Mining Towns' Homes

Labin, Yugoslavia (AP)—This northern mining town faces the problem of finding housing for nearly 1,500 people whose homes are sinking into a hill honeycombed with mine tunnels.

Sixty-one buildings are immediately threatened and 489 houses and 10 Roman Catholic churches are in danger.

Bids Opened On $4.5 Million In State Road Jobs

The State Roads Department opened bids Thursday on an estimated $4.5 million in construction projects.

Included was almost seven miles of work on Interstate 80 between the Waco and York interchanges in York County. The project includes paving, grading, gravel surfacing, culverts and fencing.

The building of four bridges along the same stretch of the super-highway is also in this letting.

Another project involves work on the 3.6-mile state recreation road from Sprague to Blue Stem Lake in Lancaster County.

Results of the bidding will be announced Friday by the department.

Alcoholic Dog Has 'Awful' Hangovers

By EDDY GILMORE

London (AP)—Patsy, a 7-year-old part Irish wolfhound, has been declared a chronic alcoholic.

Said his owner, Mrs. Mary Shannon: "Our vet says that in all his experience he's never seen an alcoholic dog before."

Today Patsy is a four-pint a-day dog suffering painful hangovers. The hangovers are so awful he has to be given two aspirins per hangover. He even has his regular pub—the Hope and Anchor—in London's East End.

"He used to drink stout," explained Mrs. Shannon, 24, but that seemed a bit heavy for him, so he switched to light ale.

Day After 'Awful'

"It's becoming quite a problem because he drinks about four pints—and feels awful the next day.

"Sometimes he has so much beer that his feet go in the opposite direction to his body. Sometimes he cannot get about at all, and he has to sleep off his binge."

Asked what she was doing about Patsy's addiction, she replied:

"I took him to the vet three weeks ago, and the vet advised that he cut down. We're trying to get him to taper off."

Hangovers Horrible

Poor Patsy's hangovers are real, searing, head-jarring shockers.

"He just lies on the bed covering his eyes with his paws and sort of moaning," said his owner. "His head must hurt something awful because it takes two aspirins to get him back to normal."

The dog's addiction began—Mrs. Shannon can't remember just when—the day he was taken to his neighborhood pub by Mrs. Shannon and her husband.

It Just Took One

Someone poured him a saucer of stout. Patsy liked it. Filling Patsy's saucer got to be a regular thing. So, the dog started going to the pub on his own.

"He scratches on the door and whines," said Mrs. Shannon, "until they let him in."

Told that Patsy's health was affected, the patrons at the Hope and Anchor have decided to cooperate in efforts by the dog's owners to cure him.

Preschool Program Bill OK'd

School districts in Nebraska would be authorized to provide and spend money on programs for children below kindergarten age under a bill passed on final reading in the State Legislature Thursday.

The measure, LB520, was introduced by Sens. Richard Lysinger of Ravenna, Dale Payne of Papillion and Pat Moulton of Omaha, and was approved on a 39-9 vote.

Any such pre-kindergarten program would be discretionary with the school board and attendance by children would be strictly voluntary.

The full list of bills passed Thursday:

LB469—Authorizing first class cities to sentence violators of city ordinances to confinement in city or county prison, workhouse or other place of confinement. (Nore, Craft, Brasier) (45-0).

LB520—Authorizing school districts to provide programs for pre-kindergarten children at their option. (Lysinger, Payne Moulton) (39-10).

LB529—Increasing the fees allowed for issuing distress warrants and increasing the commission allowed the officer handling the warrants. (Stromer, Maloney, Burbach) (E) (45-5).

LB475—Eliminating from law the provision which says no liquor licensee may operate within 150 feet of a military or naval station. (Klaver) (36-11).

LB501—Authorizing payroll deductions for state employes for the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds. (Adamson, Marvel, Hasebrook, Matzke, Orme, Batchelder, Moulton, Paxton, Fleming, Warner, Carsten, Stromer) (47-0).

Road Study Gets Preliminary Nod

The Legislature Thursday gave 36-5 preliminary approval to a resolution calling for a comprehensive study of the state's highway system.

The study would cost about $300,000, of which the federal government would pay two-thirds.

It would be conducted by a private engineering firm; under the supervision of a special Legislative Council study committee.

The study, which would touch on virtually all urban and country roads in the state, is backed by the Nebraska Department of Roads and the State Highway Advisory Commission.

Since the resolution calls for an appropriation, it must receive final approval before taking effect.

Sponsors said the study would begin this summer. Findings would be reported to the 1967 Legislature.

dieters: now, more than ever, you need

milk's vitality

JOIN THE SPRING Slimathon

Weight-watching diets can leave you low on energy. That's why milk, the vitality beverage, should be included in all your low-calorie meals.

Fresh, whole milk helps you lose weight healthfully because it supplies the vitamins, minerals and protein you need daily. Milk also helps balance a meal . . . allows you to resist between-meal snacks.

It's important, too, that your daily diet include foods from all four of the basic food groups: Milk and milk products; meat, fish, poultry and eggs; vegetables and fruits; breads and cereals.

Each of these food groups contributes necessary nutrients to protect your health. If you're trying to lose weight, reduce the portions but don't cut out any group.

Be sure to include regular daily exercise in your weight watching plan, too. For extreme cases, consult your doctor before you plan a drastic weight reduction program.

Preschool Program Bill OK'd

School districts in Nebraska would be authorized to provide and spend money on programs for children below kindergarten age under a bill passed on final reading in the State Legislature Thursday.

The measure, LB520, was introduced by Sens. Richard Lysinger of Ravenna, Dale Payne of Papillion and Pat Moulton of Omaha, and was approved on a 39-9 vote.

Any such pre-kindergarten program would be discretionary with the school board and attendance by children would be strictly voluntary.

The full list of bills passed Thursday:

LB499—Authorizing first class cities to sentence violators of city ordinances to confinement in city or county prison, workhouse or other place of confinement. (Nore, Craft, Brauer) (45-0).

LB520—Authorizing school districts to provide programs for pre-kindergarten children at their option. (Lysinger, Payne Moulton) (39-10).

LB523—Increasing the fees allowed for issuing distress warrants and increasing the commission allowed the officer handling the warrants. (Stromer, Mahoney, Burbach) (E) (45-3).

LB475—Eliminating from law the provision which says no liquor licensee may operate within 150 feet of a military or naval station. (Klaver) (36-11).

LB591—Authorizing payroll deductions for state employes for the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds. (Adamson, Marvel, Hasebroock, Matzke, Orme, Batchelder, Moulton, Paxton, Fleming, Warner, Carstens, Stromer) (47-0).

Road Study Gets Preliminary Nod

The Legislature Thursday gave 36-5 preliminary approval to a resolution calling for a comprehensive study of the state's highway system.

The study would cost about $300,000, of which the federal government would pay two-thirds.

It would be conducted by a private engineering firm; under the supervision of a special Legislative Council study committee.

The study, which would touch on virtually all urban and country roads in the state, is backed by the Nebraska Department of Roads and the State Highway Advisory Commission.

Since the resolution calls for an appropriation, it must receive final approval before taking effect.

Sponsors said the study would begin this summer. Findings would be reported to the 1967 Legislature.

Voter Registration Bill Sent To Floor

A bill requiring statewide registration of voters in Nebraska received 6-2 approval Thursday of the Legislature's Government Committee and goes next to the Unicameral floor for further action

But a companion bill providing that only registered voters may sign initiative or referendum petitions remained stalled in committee when a motion to send it to the floor received a 4-3 vote. Five affirmative votes were needed.

The statewide registration bill is LB471; the petition signature bill, LB470

Both bills were introduced principally by Sen Jerome Warner of Waverly and resulted in part from challenges which developed last year as to the legality of signatures on petitions to put a partisan Legislature proposal on last November's general election ballot. The petition drive ultimately was judged to have fallen short.

Action came at an executive session during which the committee also approved a far-reaching bill heard earlier, LB173, creating a department of administrative services as an executive department

A 5-2 vote sent LB173 to the floor after various amendments had been adopted.

The committee killed 5-4 a bill which would have provided that the governor and lieutenant governor run as a team in general elections, just as the U S presidential and vice presidential candidates run as a team The measure, LB455, had been sponsored by Sens. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth.

The bill would have permitted summarization by office or department of all claims for amounts under $100 and all claims for salaries Representatives of the newspaper industry opposed the measure and it was killed on a 6-1 vote.

NPAS Elects Miller

George Miller of the Papillion Times was eleced president of the Nebraska Press Advertising Service at the group's meeting held here Thursday in conjunction with the 91st annual convention of the Nebraska Press Association

Other officers of NPAS are Allan Cramer of the Wayne Herald, vice president, and Art Riedesel of the Ashland Gazette, new board member.

Former State Fair manager Ed Schultz received a special presentation at the Thursday evening dinner following the Advertising Service meetings.

Astronaut Lt. Cmdr. Alan L. Bean's address on "Manned Space Flight" will highlight the Nebraska Press Association convention opening Friday. He will narrate a film and answer questions.

Derrel Ludi, Wahoo newspaper publisher and president of NPA, expects a registration of more than 700—the largest in history—at the sessions to be held at the Lincoln Hotel Association members also will hear Dr. Earl L. Butz, dean of the School of Agriculture at Purdue University. Other meetings will include a panel presentation on the definition of a legal newspaper and round table discussions.

Presentation of awards for general excellence, service to agriculture, and community service will be made Friday night at the Ak-Sar-Ben banquet preceding the annual Press Association Ball.

Senators Refuse To Revive Gas Utilities Regulation Bill

By WILLIAM B. KETTER
United Press International

The Legislature Thursday refused to revive a committee-killed bill which would give the State Railway Commission regulatory powers over gas utilities.

Sen. Terry Carpenter, the principal sponsor of the measure, filed the motion to raise the bill. He said it was intended to establish uniform gas rates.

The Scottsbluff lawmaker charged opponents of the bill with distributing "misinformation" and flooding the lawmakers with telegrams protesting the legislation.

According to Carpenter, the bill was backed by the Kansas - Nebraska Natural Gas Co., but opposed by the Northern Natural Gas Co. They are the two largest gas utilities in the state.

"The Northern Natural Gas Company says it doesn't want to be regulated," Carpenter said. "So are we going to oblige by letting the tail wag the dog, or not."

The vote to raise the bill was 16-21. Twenty-fives votes were needed.

The Public Works Committee killed the bill by a 5-0 vote last month. Sen. Cecil I. Craft of North Platte, chairman, said several communities opposed the bill, fearing they would lose their rate-making authority to the Railway Commission.

But Carpenter said the bill would exempt those towns which own their own distribution systems such as Hastings, Omaha and Nebraska City.

The Public Health and Welfare Committee, in a special morning executive session, adopted a key amendment to the bill broadening the Nebraska Kerr-Mills medical care to the aged program.

The amendment provides that benefits under the liberalized act cannot exceed revenue received under the present $2 head tax.

The action was prompted by State Welfare Department concern that the head tax income was insufficient to finance the broadened act.

The department said there would be a substantial dollar gap between revenue and anticipated additional costs resulting from increased benefits and eligibility.

The $2 head tax now raises more than $1.2 million annually, and finances the state portion of the medical assistance program. The federal government underwrites 54% of the cost.

The lawmakers attached a significant amendment to a bill intended to increase most state officers salaries.

It provides that all state department heads shall serve without term, but at the pleasure of the governor. It would have the practical effect of allowing the governor to increase salaries before an officer's term expires.

The bill, LB726, would remove salary ceilings now applied to department and agency heads. It has been given preliminary approval and awaits final action.

Vitogro The Rich One

gives your lawn more nutrients for the money than any other high-quality lawn food, and your lawn will show it

This year, spread Vitogro, The Rich One, and see how it fattens thin, pale grass into thick, springy, green turf.

You won't be disappointed. Vitogro is the richest lawn food you can buy for your money. So rich, in fact, it can grow grass even without soil. (See below.) Yet rich as it is, it can't burn, even if you put on a double amount.

Vitogro is also one of the easiest lawn foods to use. You apply Vitogro only once a year to keep your lawn green from spring to fall.

Each Vitogro granule works like a little time capsule, releasing its rich nourishment slowly. So you get a healthy, green lawn all summer.

Does The Rich One cost more than ordinary lawn foods? Yes, a few cents extra. But you'll be glad you spent them when you see the difference in your lawn.

So rich in nutrients...

Vitogro grows grass even without soil

Stop fungus damage with New Vitogro Turf Fungicide

Completely new! Contains Dyrene. Prevents and controls dollar spot, brown patch, leaf spot, copper spot, melting out and snow mold. Easy to apply.

Vitogro The Rich One

gives your lawn more nutrients for the money than any other high-quality lawn food, and your lawn will show it

This year, spread Vitogro, The Rich One, and see how it fattens thin, pale grass into thick, springy, green turf.

You won't be disappointed. Vitogro is the richest lawn food you can buy for your money. So rich, in fact, it can grow grass even without soil. (See below.) Yet rich as it is, it can't burn, even if you put on a double amount.

Vitogro is also one of the easiest lawn foods to use. You apply Vitogro only once a year to keep your lawn green from spring to fall.

Each Vitogro granule works like a little time capsule, releasing its rich nourishment slowly. So you get a healthy, green lawn all summer.

Does The Rich One cost more than ordinary lawn foods? Yes, a few cents extra. But you'll be glad you spent them when you see the difference in your lawn.

So rich in nutrients...

Vitogro grows grass even without soil

Using only sun, rain, and Vitogro for nourishment, you can grow a stand of grass on sterile fiberglas.

New Vitogro Turf Fungicide

Completely new! Contains Dyrene. Prevents and controls dollar spot, brown patch, leaf spot, copper spot, melting out and snow mold. Easy to apply.

Health Council Elects Slate

New officers and directors for the Lincoln-Lancaster County Citizens Advisory Health Council were elected at the annual meeting here Thursday to serve with president A. R. Dreier, appointed to a second term by Community Council president John Angle.

Newly elected officers include Miss Lona Trott, vice chairman; Mrs. E. A. Rogers, secretary; and Elton Berck, treasurer.

Mrs. Clarence Shaner, Mrs. Harold Stoehr, Olen Brake and Robert Koudele were elected to the board for a term expiring in 1968. Chosen to fill a vacancy on the board was Howard Spahnle.

Health Study Topic

Council members at the luncheon meeting heard Joe Wallace of the U.S. Public environmental health study currently underway in Lincoln.

The federally-aided, two-year study of the city is being conducted by the city-county health department under the direction of Dr. George Underwood essentially for communicable disease control.

Dr. Underwood said Thursday that the study would be expanded beyond the city limits throughout the entire county.

Factors Studied

Wallace related that the study began with a community survey for environmental factors which continue to communicate disease. A block-by-block coverage of house and yard conditions provided the basis for stratification of the city.

Dilapidated and deteriorating housing and neighborhoods have been pinpointed generally in sections around the business district and university, in the northwest and partially in the west.

"The true index of sanitation in any community is reflected by the infant mortality rate in an area," Wallace pointed out. He noted that Lincoln statistics closely correspond to the housing stratification index.

The "key to the program" after locating the problems and calling them to the attention of residents, is to "motivate the people to correct their own problems," Wallace said.

He indicated that "clean-up days" have already been scheduled for some neighborhoods around Lincoln's business district, at the suggestion of the residents.

CHIEF CARROLL . . . demonstrates siren.

Several Devices Available To Give Women Protection

Several recent incidents of attempted rape prompted Lincoln Police Chief Joseph T. Carroll to point out that there are several devices on the market for the protection of women who must be on the streets late at night.

A siren the size of a small transistor radio has been developed. The unit is powered by a spring, and will run for about 30 seconds without being rewound. Once turned on, the police type siren cannot be turned off until it runs down. The shrill siren will attract attention, and should unnerve a molester.

One of the most recent developments is a tiny aerosol spray the size of a lipstick. It produces a pain inflicting mist which is guaranteed by the manufacturer not to cause permanent injury. The spray will allegedly disable an attacker for about 15 minutes.

Another device used in the past is a fountain pen-shaped tear gas gun. The unit contains a cartridge of tear gas which does not inflict permanent injury, but which will irritate the eyes and nose for several minutes.

According to Chief Carroll devices such as these could provide even more effective protection than a firearm, when in the hands of an inexperienced person.

Callan Explains Vote For Medicare

. . . AFTER OPPOSING SS FINANCING

Washington — Rep. Clair Callan said Thursday night that he voted for a motion to knock out Social Security financing for hospital care under the comprehensive medical care bill approved by the House.

When that motion failed, Callan voted for the bill on final passage.

Republican Reps. Glenn Cunningham and David Martin split on the measure. Cunningham voting for the bill in its final form and Martin voting against the bill.

"I could not vote against the entire bill because it contained one part with which I did not agree," the First District Democrat noted.

"The merits of the entire bill outweighed the demerits."

Callan said he voted for the motion to recommit the bill to strike out Social Security financing "because I campaigned on the fact that I do not favor the 'medicare' approach to financing and do favor the 'eldercare' approach of voluntary financing."

The bulk of his mail from Nebraska also favored the eldercare approach of financing, Callan noted.

Once the effort to dispose of Social Security financing had failed, Callan said, he had to consider the entire bill in its final form.

The measure contained improvements in the Social Security system and eldercare financing for medical assistance other than hospital care, he pointed out.

"I am convinced that although I do not like the idea of taxes, in the long run this may still be the best medical care measure due to the fact that the major portion of the costs will be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis," Callan said.

"There was no argument on whether there should be a medical care plan; the only basic question was how to finance it.

"Even though my preferred approach to financing failed, I could not vote against the interests of 69,000 persons over 65 in Nebraska."

Petition Protests Valentine Bank Move

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster District Judge William Hastings Thursday took under submission a petition in error asking vacation of an order to move the Bank of Wood Lake to Valentine and change its name.

J. W. Tobien and G. C. Tobien, stockholders in the former Nebraska State Bank of Valentine and Wood Lake businessmen G. L. Kistler and A. D. Coble are asking the court to order that the name of the Bank of Valentine be changed back to the Bank of Wood Lake and be returned to the village.

The action stems from the State Banking Department's closing of the Nebraska State Bank of Valentine and a Nov. 4 order by Banking Director Henry Ley to move to Valentine the Wood Lake Bank.

The bank was closed the day before its president, Richard Davenport admitted misappropriation of some $1.5 million in bank funds.

In a brief submitted at Thursday's hearing by the State Department of Banking, the defendants contend that the petition in error should be dismissed for reason that the "purported plaintiffs have shown no standing to bring the action . . . and the transfer of the Wood Lake Bank to Valentine was an exercise of administrative discretion by the director of banking and not subject to a proceeding in error."

The defendants further contended that it was necessary for the banking department to take the immediate action they did because one bank is not sufficient to handle the banking business of the Valentine area.

"The plaintiff bank has been declared insolvent and is in receivership, and how the interests of this insolvent bank or two of its minority stockholders can be affected by the action of transfer involved herein is not shown . . . and the petition does not state what interests, if any, the purported plaintiff citizens of Wood Lake purport to have in this action," William Dill, attorney for the defendant bank stated.

Omaha attorney John Powers, representing the plaintiffs, argued that Ley "cannot go around bartering public franchises in the name of the state of Nebraska."

He emphasized that the Wood Lake Bank promptly moved to Valentine in order to assume the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation payments on the claims by depositors of the closed bank.

Committee Axes All State Song Offerings

The Legislature's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee washed its hands of the "state song" problem Thursday by killing all 10 musical offerings confronting the committee.

The axe fell on seven individual bills, each proposing a specific state song, and three other offerings received in the form of amendments.

The committee chairman, Sen. Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont, said an advisory committee of musicians which the committee recruited to counsel it regarded some of the songs as very good but that none "was in a form that would be acceptable as a state song."

Rasmussen said he felt personally that it would be improper for the Legislature to choose a state song and "then tell the people, 'you sing it.'" A song should first win acceptance from the public and then the Legislature can officially designate it as the state song, he said.

The committee, at the same executive session, made a new and unsuccessful attempt to dispose of a controversial fair housing bill, and Sen. Rasmussen said the measure is now hopelessly bogged down.

Sen. Edward Danner of Omaha, the only Negro member of the Unicameral and introducer of the measure, LB661, said he would make an attempt on the legislative floor to extract the bill from the committee.

A motion Thursday to kill the bill, LB661, received a 2-3 vote. Five votes are needed either to kill or advance.

Sen. Rasmussen said he regarded the bill in its original form as well as a redrafted version offered the committee as unacceptable.

The committee also refused Thursday to introduce a new bill which would have increased commercial fishing license fees from $15 to $50. The motion needed five approving votes, but received only three.

The only bill given public hearing Thursday, extending urban renewal laws to the 88 Nebraska cities of the second class (population 1,000 to 5,000), was sent to the floor on a 5-1 vote.

The measure, LB95, was introduced by Sens. Dale L. Payne of Papillion, Eric Rasmussen and W. H. Hasebroock of West Point.

The bill simply includes second class cities in urban renewal legislation already applying to larger cities, including Lincoln and Omaha.

Reported out 8-0 was a previously heard bill, LB331, requiring registers of deeds to make reports to the tax commissioner of real estate sales and transfers.

Neighborhood Youth Corps Plan Gets OK

The Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission moved ahead Thursday on two state programs under the federal Economic Opportunity Act.

Given final approval was a Neighborhood Youth Corps plan under which some 280 young men and women in Nebraska could be employed in local soil and water conservancy districts.

Full Or Part Time

The program would employ youngsters from the ages of 16 through 21 on both a full and part-time basis, Williamson said.

Scheduled to begin May 1, the program requires that the employes live at home and come from families meeting certain income requirements.

Cost of the program is to be paid by the federal government. The pay scale is $1 25 an hour for both full and part-time workers

Various Places

Williamson said the youths would aid local districts in planting, layout and conservation work and other phases of local district operations.

Also approved by the commission was a work-study program with the University of Nebraska. Williamson said some six to eight University students would be employed this summer to work out of Lincoln in nearby districts.

Some of them may be retained for part-time employment during the school year, he said

The state commission will pay 10% of their wages

SOUTHEAST YOUTH WINS FOR ORATORY

Ken Wald from Southeast High School was named district winner in the Lincoln Optimist Cub's annual oratorical contest held Thursday He will compete in the International Optimist contest in New Orleans.

The second place winner was Jerry Webman, also of Southeast Steve Bean of Lincoln Northeast was the third place winner

Six finalists, three each from Northeast and Southeast High Schools competed in the contest.

ELECTION HEARING WAITS FOR BILL

State Water Resources Director Dan Jones said Thursday a hearing affecting election of the boards of the Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District will not be held until legislation dealing with the subject is processed in the Unicameral.

The Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative of Columbus filed petitions in October asking Jones to require the Loup and Platte Valley boards to be elected on a statewide basis.

Jones said hearing of the case was postponed by mutual agreement of those involved.

Plymouth Sen. Arnold Ruhnke's LB288 would have the effect of requiring the Loup and Platte Valley boards to represent the entire geographical area served by the two districts. The districts operate jointly as the Nebraska Public Power System.

The Legislature's Public Power Committee has heard testimony on LB288 but has not yet taken action on the measure.

Watershed Decisions Postponed

The state Soil and Water Conservation Commission Thursday conducted three watershed hearings, but deferred action on the applications pending completion of field reviews

Reviews should be completed for commission action at its next meeting May 27.

Hearings were held on the applications of —Lime Creek, 45,000 acres in Cedar and Dixon counties in northeast Nebraska. The commission was told that the water in five creeks in the proposed district drops at about 50 feet per mile, and that additional work is needed to protect the farms on bottom land near the Missouri River

—Long Branch, about 48,000 acres in Richardson, Pawnee, Johnson and Nemaha counties Witnesses said there is a need for storing more water before the stream reaches Humboldt

—Lower Little Nemaha, about 138,000 acres in Otoe, Nemaha, Richardson and Johnson counties. The commission was told that within this area there are now only five bridges over the stream while there used to be about 20, and that over $1.5 million damage was done in Nemaha county alone by a 1950 flood.

The commission recommended the approval of the formation of three watershed conservancy districts Antelope-Beaver in Cedar and Knox counties, Tekamah-Mud in Burt county and Rock in Saunders and Lancaster county

Morrison Buys Federal Recreation Sticker

Gov. Frank Morrison purchased one of the new federal recreation area use stickers Thursday.

The governor gave his $7 personal check for the permit to Fred Novak, assistant director of the Omaha regional office of the National Park Service.

The sticker permits unlimited seasonal entry into any federally-operated recreation area that charges admission.

Only Two

Funds from permit fees, along with proceeds from sales of surplus land and motor boat gasoline taxes, will go toward financing the federal government's multi-million dollar land and water conservation act, according to Novak.

Nebraska will receive some $2 million a year under the act when the program is in full operation. State matching money will come from a percentage of the recent state tax hike on cigarettes.

Most Significant

Morrison called the act "one of the most significant programs we have to allow acceleration in recreational development."

Part of the federal money will be available to local subdivisions and some cigarette tax money is earmarked to help local areas match the federal appropriation for recreational development.

State Game Commissioner Mel Steen said the federal act will enable Nebraska to do ten times what is now being done for park and recreation development.

The governor urged Nebraskans to support the "sticker" program and called for more individual effort in recreational development.

For instance, Gov. Morrison said, "Nebraskans as private citizens can help do the job of planting the needed hundreds of millions of trees."

"Nebraska is called the tree planter's state," he continued, "but there are dams (in the Republican Valley) that have been there 15 or 20 years and there's not a single tree planted."

Get Busy

He said individuals and civic organizations should "quit sitting on their hands" and get busy planting trees for conservation, beautification of recreation areas and to screen unpleasant sights along highways.

He said all Nebraska schools are being asked to participate in an Arbor Day program, April 22, and urged all citizens to do the same.

NO SERIOUS EFFECT FROM HIKES

A state college official said Thursday he doubts that the tuition hikes recommended by the Legislature's Budget Committee will seriously cut enrollment at the four state colleges if the increases are approved by the State Normal Board.

In fact, said Normal Board Coordinator F. E. Decker, the increases would bring tuition rates at the four colleges in line with the rates of other Midwestern colleges.

The Budget Committee is recommending increases of about 15% in the resident tuition rates at the colleges and a 17% increase in tuition for out-of-state students. The Normal Board can accept or reject the proposals as it pleases.

Dr. Decker said the increases might reduce slightly summer session enrollments at the colleges at Kearney, Chadron, Peru and Wayne but should not affect regular session enrollments.

The state college tuition for summer session courses would be raised from $9 to $11 per hour if the committee's recommendatinns are accepted. Resident tuition for regular sessions would go from $102 to $120 per semester and from $150 to $175 per semester for non-residents.

The Budget Committee recommends about a 25% increase in resident tuition at the University of Nebraska and a 50% increase for nonresident university tuition.

POSTCARD by Stan McLaughlen

This being the season of love and marriage, love and marriage dum-de-dum-dum, I note that book stores are pushing guide books for brides.

Such books map out the procedure. What to wear — something borrowed, something blue. How to get to church on time. How to hurl the bouquet. And what to give the ushers.

What I have been thinking about is writing a guide book for the Best Man.

I have rolled through this assignment three times. And a better man you never saw.

The Best Man is very important to a wedding. Riding shotgun, so to speak, to the groom. Pouring Old Pain-Killer into the fathers-in-law. Juggling the ring and keeping his mind on a thousand things.

"No one is busier than the Best Man on the day of the wedding," says the guide book for brides.

"He takes the groom in charge precisely as might a guardian. He takes note of the 'patient's' general condition; if he is normal and fit, so much the better.

"If he is up in the air and nervous, the Best Man must bring him to earth as best he can."

I don't recall my three clients were up in the air or nervous. Daffy maybe. But not nervous.

They said: "Why is it taking all this time? Let's have a quick one while we're waiting."

They said: "As soon as we're settled, you come over to the house for dinner."

This shows that they were not nervous but off their ever-loving rockers.

The first thing a bride does is pick out a new set of ties. Then a new set of friends.

The bride's guide at this point kisses off the Best Man. (Let him do the best he can, ha, ha.)

That is why I think I will write a guide book for these fellows.

The best thing a Best Man can do is get his tiger to the altar. If he can do that, he has done ninety percent of the job.

The Best Man is a delivery man.

He arranges him in position indicated and drops back two paces.

When the ceremony is completed, he kisses the bride.

She says: "The first thing we want to do when we get back is have you over for dinner."

She means: "If I ever catch you hanging around my husband again, you will both regret it."

Adios, Best Man.

Do you know there are 12 million unmarried ladies in the U.S. alone? True.

This is known as "the unmarried set." And what the unmarried set is set on is getting married. It keeps the stenographers' pool in a constant state of nerves.

Most of these chicks will get married. This means there will be 12 million Best Men. And that is a market any publisher can view with respect.

Anyway, I am a Best Man who has gone the route three times. I think I am able to give some sound advice—and sell it, I hope.

I don't know how you calm down a groom. Short of pistol-whipping him. But it was part of my pride that I delivered all three, mobile and unmarked.

I got them on stage. I gassed up the getaway car and checked the tires. I paid off the parson. I bussed the bride.

"We want you to come to dinner," they said.

Any of these ever-loving days.

Educators Must Think Of Needs

. . . GROUP TOLD

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

"If adult educators are going to fulfill their full responsibility in America, they must start concerning themselves with the needs of the people rather than academic tradition, declared Dr. Harold E. Sponberg Thursday.

"There must be no apologizing for showing a plumber how to do his job better, and there must be no educational effort regarded too demanding for you to participate in," he told some 120 adult educators at the annual conference of the Missouri Valley Adult Education Association here.

Sponberg, president of Washburn University and president-designate of Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, keynoted the two-day meeting stressing the need for adult education and more education for the educators.

Receives Award

William D. Lutes, head of field classes for the University of Nebraska Extension Division, was one of three recipients of an achievement award for adult educators presented at the Thursday evening banquet.

Achievement awards also went to W. F. Currier, director of the Southeast Kansas Area Vocational-Technical School at Coffeyville, Kan., and Mrs. Adelaide Jones, director of adult education at Drury College, Springfield, Mo.

The adult educators also heard Dr. Cyril O. Houle, professor of education at the University of Chicago and member of the UNESCO International Committee for the Advancement of Adult Education, speak on adult education program development.

Theories Cited

Houle described some of the current theories of practice in adult education for and against unity in the field, and stated, "My theory of adult education is to tie together diverse interests with which all are concerned."

Outlining the basic steps of program development, Dr. Houle emphasized that "sophistication (in adult education) does not lie in responding to immediate stimuli of a situation, but to look at behind-the-surface realities of activities."

Friday Dr. Chester H. Gausman, 6020 St. Paul, director of vocational and adult education in the Lincoln Public Schools will be installed as president of the Missouri Valley Association.

Gausman was named president-elect last year in St. Louis, Mo. He is the former state president of the Nebraska Vocational Association and of the Nebraska Adult Education Association.

Lincoln Guest

Mrs. J. Gorham MacKinnon, who is visiting Lincoln in the interest of the International YWCA Training Institute program, has had many interesting adventures as a result of her present position

Before coming to Lincoln, Mrs. MacKinnon and 46 other women from all over the world, studied intensively for five weeks at a Pennsylvania estate located in the Rocano Mountains.

At the conclusion of their studies, the women boarded buses for Washington D.C., where Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and Mrs. Laurance S. Rockefeller began a series of teas and receptions. The White House tea was followed by a reception at the State Department with Lyle Carter, director of the state offices serving as host. Kate Lockheim, Assistant Deputy of State, honored the group at a tea in her State office quarters and a similar affair took place in the chambers of United States Senator, Margaret Chase Smith.

The next stop for the group was New York City where a long line of receptions continued. Of particular interest was the reception and dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Laurance Rockefeller at their home. Following the dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller took the group on a tour through Rockefeller Center. and here they saw a performance by the famed "Rockettes."

The good times were running short but, before the March 23 departure time, Mrs. Rockefeller arranged for a large reception in their honor.

Mrs. MacKinnon's first stop was Lincoln, and from here she will go to Indianapolis, Ind. then Milwaukee, Wis. and finally back to Omaha, holding workshops in each city. Joining her on the other three ventures will be a representative from Ghana, Mexico and India.

From all the acquaintances Mrs. MacKinnon has made she has accumulated many new ideas for YWCA projects as well as foreign recipes. Last Sunday, for instance, there was a dessert buffet at the YWCA where desserts from around the world were served.

A MOVE

There is no better time than now to make a move. We aren't thinking about a checker game, but we are thinking about the type of moving that is going on in suburbia.

There are three types involved. The first is just moving from one place to another for a birthday party, or an afternoon chat and a cup of coffee. The second is moving to the home of a friend or a relative for a weekend stay. The third type of move is the most permanent one—moving to a new home within the city or out of the state.

The next move we are going to make is to tell you who is doing the moving.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

When Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis planned a family dinner to celebrate Mr. Davis's birthday last Saturday evening, their expected guests for the evening were Mr. Davis's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Davis of Seward, who arrived—a bit late because of the fog—accompanied by their grandsons, Bret and Scott Davis, who had been visiting in Seward for several days.

But also coming out of the fog to surprise Mr. Davis on his birthday anniversary were his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Davis, and their sons, Chris and Chuck, of Tecumseh.

In fact, the whole evening turned out to be a surprise—for Mrs. Davis as well as the birthday celebrant. The dinner guests stayed overnight because of poor driving conditions.

However, Mrs. Davis has become accustomed to a great deal of entertaining during these early days of April as her son Bret will celebrate his sixth birthday today April 9,—and son Scott will turn seven on Saturday, April 10. Naturally, both Bret and Scott will be party hosts to mark their anniversaries. Arriving on Friday to join in the festivities will be Mrs. Davis's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Becker of Leavenworth, Kan., and their children, Gary, Jenny and Paula.

Bret's party will be held Friday afternoon, and his guests will include Jan Cooper, Jodie Fields, Duane Bill, Charles Parmley and Jay Marshall. When Scott entertains Saturday afternoon, his guests will be Danny Nelson, John Bucy, Rusty Fiala, David Kulla and Gary Merritt.

Without time out for rest, the Davis and Becker families will drive to Staplehurst on Sunday to attend the confirmation service of Mrs. Becker's and Mrs. Davis's niece, Miss Kathy Kamprath.

FIENE HEIGHTS

There is activity to report from the Donavon Luedke residence. Last week was a busy one for Mrs. Luedke for on Thursday she took on hostess duties. She entertained at a coffee for the Lincoln faculty wives of Mrs. Luedke's area. Illness and unfavorable weather conditions caused four of the members to be absent but those who did survive all the complications and arrived to carry on the monthly get-together of the group were Mrs. Jim Carlin, Mrs. Dale Rathe, Mrs. Darrell Grell and Mrs. Dick Beechner.

EASTRIDGE

A visitor in the suburb last weekend was Mrs. William Manning of Minneapolis, who was the guest of her nephew, LaVell K. Swarts, and Mrs. Swarts.

To honor their houseguest, Mr. and Mrs. Swarts were host and hostess at a family dinner on Sunday at their home. Included among the family members of the attending were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swarts of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Miller and their grandson, Marvin, of Alvo; Mr. and Mrs. Dolor Swarts and son, Keith, of Elmwood and Mr. and Mrs. R. James McNerney.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pearson have moved from 944 Mulder Dr. to Overland Park, Kan. Their new address is 9108 W. 88 Terrace.

Capt. and Mrs. Joyce Downing and their children, Jim, nine years-old; Barbara, aged six and the two-year-old Donna, are the new occupants of the Pearson home. They formerly lived at 2140 So. 35th St.

MEADOW LANE

The new residents in the Meadow Lane area as of April 1st are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beachamp and their daughter, Andrea, who will be two years-old on May 1st. The Beachamp family formerly lived at 3837 No. 56th St.

Award Winners

(Standing (from the left) are Mrs. Alvin Finke, Syracuse, District I, 100 per cent participation in community improvement project; Miss Mary Nichols, Brock District I president, attendance award; Mrs. Richard Grant, Meadow Grove, first place in sewing contest for club members Miss Kathy Riddle, Curtiss, first in sewing for high school seniors; and Mrs. Harold Grone, Davenport, community improvement award is the word for busy Lincoln

Just to say that Lincoln is busy this weekend would be a masterpiece of understatement. Lincoln IS busy, but certainly not in any routine way. The calendar is filled with gay events for which the major incentives are guests. We already have mentioned the visitors from Pelican Lake, Minn., and the courtesies for them. But more guests are arriving today and they will be greeted by a weekend of fun.

Remember Clarissa Bennett? She now is Mrs. Al Clark and, with Mr. Clark, she will be coming to Lincoln today. Mr. and Mrs. Clark, who reside in Williamsville, N.Y., are in Pawnee City where they are visiting Mrs. Clark's mother, Mrs. J. R. Bennett, formerly of Lincoln.

During their stay in town Mr. and Mrs. Clark will be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Barber, Jr., but will greet numerous of their old friends this evening when Mr. and Mrs. James MacLean are host and hostess at a canape party at their home.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Barber will pay courtesy to their guests when they entertain with canapes and supper at their home.

We understand that among the Omaha guests at the Barber party will be Mr. and Mrs. Dana Bradford.

As a matter of fact Mrs. Bradford is coming to Lincoln early on Saturday and will be a luncheon hostess at the Lincoln Country Club. Her guest list will include her mother, Mrs. Herbert E. Gooch, and a group of Mrs. Gooch's friends.

And still another guest this weekend—He is Gerhard Milner, press attache at the German Embassy, Washington, D.C. Mr. Milner, was one of the speakers at the Conference on World Affairs held at Kearney State College on Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Milner comes to Lincoln today to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Drath who will honor him at a reception this evening at their home.

To Attend Convention

A group of University of Nebraska coeds accompanied by Lincoln alumnae will go to Boulder, Colo., this weekend to attend a province convention of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Representing the chapter will be Miss Vicki Dowling, president, and Miss Barbara Pflasterer, Omaha; Miss Vicki Shurtz, Kimball; Miss Cathy Housel, Lexington; Miss Jenny Marshall and Miss Linda Mahoney.

A MOVE

There is no better time than now to make a move. We aren't thinking about a checker game, but we are thinking about the type of moving that is going on in suburbia.

There are three types involved. The first is just moving from one place to another for a birthday party, or an afternoon chat and a cup of coffee. The second is moving to the home of a friend or a relative for a weekend stay. The third type of move is the most permanent one—moving to a new home within the city or out of the state.

The next move we are going to make is to tell you who is doing the moving.

Lincoln Guest

Mrs. J. Gorham MacKinnon, who is visiting Lincoln in the interest of the International YWCA Training Institute program, has had many interesting adventures as a result of her present position.

Before coming to Lincoln, Mrs. MacKinnon and 46 other women from all over the world, studied intensively for five weeks at a Pennsylvania estate located in the Rocano Mountains.

At the conclusion of their studies, the women boarded buses for Washington D.C., where Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and Mrs. Laurance S. Rockefeller began a series of teas and receptions. The White House tea was followed by a reception at the State Department with Lyle Carter, director of the state offices serving as host. Kate Lockheim, Assistant Deputy of State, honored the group at a tea in her State office quarters and a similar affair took place in the chambers of United States Senator, Margaret Chase Smith.

The next stop for the group was New York City where a long line of receptions continued. Of particular interest was the reception and dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Laurance Rockefeller at their home. Following the dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller took the group on a tour through Rockefeller Center, and here they saw a performance by the famed "Rockettes."

The good times were running short but, before the March 23 departure time, Mrs. Rockefeller arranged for a large reception in their honor.

Mrs. MacKinnon's first stop was Lincoln, and from here she will go to Indianapolis, Ind. then Milwaukee, Wis. and finally back to Omaha, holding workshops in each city. Joining her on the other three ventures will be a representative from Ghana, Mexico and India.

From all the acquaintances Mrs. MacKinnon has made she has accumulated many new ideas for YWCA projects as well as foreign recipes. Last Sunday, for instance, there was a dessert buffet at the YWCA where desserts from around the world were served.

ABBY

it's time he made a choice

Abigial Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend says that what he likes most about me is that I am morally aloof. He is right. I don't put up with any monkey business Fred (not his real name) used to be very thick with a certain girl for about three years. He said she was not morally aloof like I was. In fact, she was just the opposite. Now Fred tells me that he has to go back with her every now and then to test his strength and make sure that he is absolutely through with her. I don't care for this idea. He says I don't have any kick coming because I always win out since he always comes back to me, which proves that he is absolutely through with her, doesn't it? I think there's something wrong with the way he figures. What is it?

MORALLY ALOOF

DEAR ALOOF: It's heads he wins, tails you lose. Tell Fred that if he can't prove his "strength" by staying away from the other gal entirely, you'll be not only morally aloof, but physically absent from his life.

DEAR ABBY: I met a woman recently at the home of a mutual friend. She was very pretty, intelligent, refined and friendly. But for some strange reason, which I cannot for the life of me understand, I took an instant dislike to her. This has been bothering me because I rarely form an opinion about a person before getting to know him. Are first impressions usually correct? Why do you suppose I took such a definite dislike to this woman?

MISS T.

DEAR MISS T.: Perhaps she reminded you of someone you dislike with good reason. Or possibly she was TOO "pretty, intelligent and refined," and you were jealous. First impressions are the result of one's combined prejudices and should not be relied upon.

DEAR ABBY: This is my solution for getting teen-age daughters to help willingly with the dishes. Simply refuse to let anyone who has "too much homework" or is "too tired" to help with the dishes receive any phone calls for the evening. After years of scolding and threatning, I finally hit upon this idea and it worked like magic. I only wish I had thought of it sooner. Pass this on to your readers, Abby.

Spring is the time for extra personal beauty care. When the hands are more exposed to the outdoor weather, you'll want to take special care to see that they are always at their loveliest.

Nail polish is bound to get chipped when you are spading in the flower bed. But often when a repair job is attempted on one nail, all ten are ruined. A new gadget, a nail polish remover is on the market. The whole thing is contained in a slim, round, plastic cartridge surmounted by a cleaning wick. It is said to be the answer to the nail problem The liquid remains only on the cleaning head and will not evaporate, leak or spill. It's called Snap'eez.

Now that your hands are perfected, you might want to look down at your feet. The pigskin and casual low nap suedes so popular in shoes these days take a special cleaner. This one, called Pigskin and Casual Suede Cleaner, cleans your shoes in two easy steps. You simply erase dirt by rubbing on cleaner and pick up the residue with the sponge which comes in the package. The cleaner also works on canvas shoes, handbags, felt hats, and belts

When you look your loveliest, it's a pleasure to entertain. A new product which makes party entertaining easier is an all-electric Brochette for indoor grilling of hat appetizers and hor d'oeuvres. Naturally there are no ashes and no smoke.

If you're entertaining on the patio, the Buffet-Patio Server will be a joy to use. The server holds two quarts and is made of stoneware with an electric base. It's perfect for baked beans and soups.

QUIZ

Partner bids One Heart, next player passes, both sides vulnerable. What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1 ♠74 ♥AQ73 ♦J65 ♣KJ82
2 ♠A9652 ♥Q874 ♦82 ♣73
3 ♠AQJ8 ♥7 ♦K94 ♣AJ652
4 ♠9763 ♥Q9652 ♦— ♣KQ74
5. ♠AJ5 ♥Q74 ♦KQ62 ♣AJ3

1. Two clubs The hand is too good for two hearts (usually 6 to 9 points), and note quite good enough for a response of three hearts (usually 13 to 15 points). The best thing to do in such circumstances, where neither a single nor double raise would be correct, is to bid a side suit and in this way straddle the issue. The heart fit can be shown later, after partner responds to two clubs.

2. Two hearts. This hand is about average for a raise to two hearts, and the best way of identifying it is to raise partner immediately

It is not advisable to respond one spade because of the possibility that partner's rebid might be two hearts, in which case we would be torn between the desire to pass or to bid three hearts. The easiest way of avoiding this dilemma is by an immediate heart raise.

3. Two clubs. This bid is likely to prove far more illuminating by the time the bidding is over than a response of one spade. When you bid two clubs and follow this with a two spade bid after partner's probable rebid in hearts or diamonds, your partner will then know that the spades are only four cards long and that the clubs are at least five cards in length.

A direct response of one spade, followed by a later mention of the clubs, would fail to identify the actual distribution and might easily lead to a wrong contract.

4 Four hearts Whether partner can make this contract or not is highly uncertain, but the point is that preemptive tactics are called for so that it will be difficult for the next player to enter the auction. The leap to four is both offensive and defensive at one and the same time. The jump to game announces limited high-card strength and is strictly a closeout bid.

5. Three notrump. This is the most descriptive bid available The direct response of three notrump to an opening bid of one in a suit shows 16 or 17 high-card points, notrump distribution (usually 4-3-3-3), and strength or stoppers in the three unbid suits.

Three notrump is by no means a closing bid. On the contrary, it invites partner to go forward towards a slam with a hand containing more than minimum values.

EGO and the EGG

Egos—or personalities—show when a person voices a preference for a style of cooked eggs—or so an unknown pshychiatrist claims.

For example, hard cooked eggs are supposedly preferred by one who is persistent, dynamic and sincere Soft-cooked eggs are preferred by a gentle, patient, kind person. Selection of medium-cooked eggs indicates a calm, cool and collected composure.

Poached eggs supposedly are preferred by the speedy, peppy and intelligent. Scrambled—first choice of most Americans—suit the artistic, nervous and passionate

Among fried egg styles, difference also exist. Eggs—"sunnyside up" are selected by the happy, healthy and wise, while the versatile, magnetic and dominant prefer eggs turned-over.

Shirred eggs suit the fancy of the fastidious, romantic and sensitive. A sturdy, reliable conservative type is likely to choose an omelet.

Lemons For Beauty

To keep your skin clear and fair and your hair brilliant you need the natural cleansing and bleaching tonic of lemons. Ask your druggist for a bottle of lemon jelvyn, the latest lemon-type skin freshener that beautiful women are now using. Lemon jelvyn bleaches yellowness of the hands and neck, beautifies the complexion as it melts out plugged pores and closes them to a beautifully fine texture. Lemon jelvyn is excellent for a quick cleanse or to quell a greasy nose A little lemon jelvyn brushed on the hair after your shampoo will give it the glamour of sparkling diamonds. This is a luxury skin freshener and cleanser.

Greet Spring with a glamorous new hat

Fashions this spring show hats that are high and wide, that is, there is plenty of hat with plenty of fluff.

"There are two quite distinct looks in spring hats," according to a millinery buyer and a fashion coordinator for a downtown department store. "The first is very, very soft and ladylike. We see the return of large brimmed hats and bonnets," she said.

"The second look is also soft, but more tailored. This is a hat which suits demand." Miss Babst included the cloche, Spanish sailor, and off-the-face styles of bretons and rollers in this category.

So off to the millinery department goes the enthusiastic shopper, with a handbag stuffed with cash and a mind filled with ideas about how glamorous she'll be in her stylish head dress. But after the shopper is there, the confusion begins. And we're not just talking of the top of our hat!

The confusion arises when only one style can be chosen from the dozens available.

One of these that is really new this year is a petal wig or "snood" which can be worn completely covering the hair or plopped on the back of the head with a little hair showing. It's big and roomy—seems to be following the roomy styles shown in curler caps and shower caps which cover huge rollers.

"It's really great this year," according to a hat clerk who seems to be on the top of things. It comes in various colors from shocking pink to brilliant yellow, is trimmed in daisies or velvet and sometimes is made with fish net

Another very new item is called the chignon. This is a hair piece which is worn as a hat. Some have flowers or velvet bows woven right in with the hair. Another hair piece comes with a veil.

Mary Poppins hats with a long ribbon streamer down the back and topped off with a flashy daisy popping up in back are great for the little gals

One hat that will appeal to women who are limited as to how many hats they can buy is equipped with giant yellow, green, red and blue flowers on a pale olive green net backing. That's four hats in one!

It seems many hats are taking a completely new look this year, but the old styles are still around. A beret in a combination shiny and dull straw is very soft and still popular, and a sailor with a dangling rose on a back strap in an old style with a new turn.

DEAR ALOOF: It's heads he wins, tails you lose. Tell Fred that if he can't prove his "strength" by staying away from the other gal entirely, you'll be not only morally aloof, but physically absent from his life.

DEAR ABBY: I met a woman recently at the home of a mutual friend. She was very pretty, intelligent, refined and friendly. But for some strange reason, which I cannot for the life of me understand, I took an instant dislike to her. This has been bothering me because I rarely form an opinion about a person before getting to know him. Are first impressions usually correct? Why do you suppose I took such a definite dislike to this woman?

MISS T.

DEAR MISS T.: Perhaps she reminded you of someone you dislike with good reason. Or possibly she was TOO "pretty, intelligent and refined," and you were jealous. First impressions are the result of one's combined prejudices and should not be relied upon.

DEAR ABBY: This is my solution for getting teen-age daughters to help willingly with the dishes. Simply refuse to let anyone who has "too much homework" or is "too tired" to help with the dishes receive any phone calls for the evening. After years of scolding and threatning, I finally hit upon this idea and it worked like magic. I only wish I had thought of it sooner. Pass this on to your readers, Abby.

Spring is the time for extra personal beauty care. When the hands are more exposed to the outdoor weather, you'll want to take special care to see that they are always at their loveliest.

Nail polish is bound to get chipped when you are spading in the flower bed. But often when a repair job is attempted on one nail, all ten are ruined. A new gadget, a nail polish remover is on the market. The whole thing is contained in a slim, round, plastic cartridge surmounted by a cleaning wick. It is said to be the answer to the nail problem. The liquid remains only on the cleaning head and will not evaporate, leak or spill. It's called Snap'eez.

Now that your hands are perfected, you might want to look down at your feet. The pigskin and casual low nap suedes so popular in shoes these days take a special cleaner. This one, called Pigskin and Casual Suede Cleaner, cleans your shoes in two easy steps. You simply erase dirt by rubbing on cleaner and pick up the residue with the sponge which comes in the package. The cleaner also works on canvas shoes, handbags, felt hats, and belts.

When you look your loveliest, it's a pleasure to entertain. A new product which makes party entertaining easier is an all-electric Brochette for indoor grilling of hat appetizers and hor d'oeuvres. Naturally there are no ashes and no smoke.

If you're entertaining on the patio, the Buffet-Patio Server will be a joy to use. The server holds two quarts and is made of stoneware with an electric base. It's perfect for baked beans and soups.

QUIZ

Partner bids One Heart, next player passes, both sides vulnerable. What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠74 ♥AQ73 ♦J65 ♣KJ82
2. ♠A9652 ♥Q874 ♦82 ♣73
3. ♠AQJ8 ♥7 ♦K94 ♣AJ652
4. ♠9763 ♥Q9652 ♦— ♣KQ74
5. ♠AJ5 ♥Q74 ♦KQ62 ♣AJ3

1. Two clubs. The hand is too good for two hearts (usually 6 to 9 points), and note quite good enough for a response of three hearts (usually 13 to 15 points). The best thing to do in such circumstances, where neither a single nor double raise would be correct, is to bid a side suit and in this way straddle the issue. The heart fit can be shown later, after partner responds to two clubs.

2. Two hearts. This hand is about average for a raise to two hearts, and the best way of identifying it is to raise partner immediately.

It is not advisable to respond one spade because of the possibility that partner's rebid might be two hearts, in which case we would be torn between the desire to pass or to bid three hearts. The easiest way of avoiding this dilemma is by an immediate heart raise.

3. Two clubs. This bid is likely to prove far more illuminating by the time the bidding is over than a response of one spade. When you bid two clubs and follow this with a two spade bid after partner's probable rebid in hearts or diamonds, your partner will then know that the spades are only four cards long and that the clubs are at least five cards in length.

A direct response of one spade, followed by a later mention of the clubs, would fail to identify the actual distribution and might easily lead to a wrong contract.

4. Four hearts. Whether partner can make this contract or not is highly uncertain, but the point is that preemptive tactics are called for so that it will be difficult for the next player to enter the auction. The leap to four is both offensive and defensive at one and the same time. The jump to game announces limited high-card strength and is strictly a closeout bid.

5. Three notrump. This is the most descriptive bid available. The direct response of three notrump to an opening bid of one in a suit shows 16 or 17 high-card points, notrump distribution (usually 4-3-3-3), and strength or stoppers in the three unbid suits.

Three notrump is by no means a closing bid. On the contrary, it invites partner to go forward towards a slam with a hand containing more than minimum values.

EGO and the EGG

Egos—or personalities—show when a person voices a preference for a style of cooked eggs—or so an unknown pshychiatrist claims.

For example, hard cooked eggs are supposedly preferred by one who is persistent, dynamic and sincere. Soft-cooked eggs are preferred by a gentle, patient, kind person. Selection of medium-cooked eggs indicates a calm, cool and collected composure.

Poached eggs supposedly are preferred by the speedy, peppy and intelligent. Scrambled—first choice of most Americans—suit the artistic, nervous and passionate.

Among fried egg styles, difference also exist. Eggs—"sunnyside up" are selected by the happy, healthy and wise, while the versatile, magnetic and dominant prefer eggs turned-over.

Shirred eggs suit the fancy of the fastidious, romantic and sensitive. A sturdy, reliable conservative type is likely to choose an omelet.

Lemons For Beauty

To keep your skin clear and fair and your hair brilliant you need the natural cleansing and bleaching tonic of lemons. Ask your druggist for a bottle of lemon jelvyn, the latest lemon-type skin freshener that beautiful women are now using. Lemon jelvyn bleaches yellowness of the hands and neck, beautifies the complexion as it melts out plugged pores and closes them to a beautifully fine texture. Lemon jelvyn is excellent for a quick cleanse or to quell a greasy nose. A little lemon jelvyn brushed on the hair after your shampoo will give it the glamour of sparkling diamonds. This is a luxury skin freshener and cleanser.

Fashions this spring show hats that are high and wide, that is, there is plenty of hat with plenty of fluff.

"There are two quite distinct looks in spring hats," according to a millinery buyer and a fashion coordinator for a downtown department store. "The first is very, very soft and ladylike. We see the return of large brimmed hats and bonnets," she said.

"The second look is also soft, but more tailored. This is a hat which suits demand." Miss Babst included the cloche, Spanish sailor, and off-the-face styles of bretons and rollers in this category.

So off to the millinery department goes the enthusiastic shopper, with a handbag stuffed with cash and a mind filled with ideas about how glamorous she'll be in her stylish head dress. But after the shopper is there, the confusion begins. And we're not just talking of the top of our hat!

One of these that is really new this year is a petal wig or "snood" which can be worn completely covering the hair or plopped on the back of the head with a little hair showing. It's big and roomy—seems to be following the roomy styles shown in curler caps and shower caps which cover huge rollers.

"It's really great this year," according to a hat clerk who seems to be on the top of things. It comes in various colors from shocking pink to brilliant yellow, is trimmed in daisies or velvet and sometimes is made with fish net.

Another very new item is called the chignon. This is a hair piece which is worn as a hat. Some have flowers or velvet bows woven right in with the hair. Another hair piece comes with a veil.

Mary Poppins hats with a long ribbon streamer down the back and topped off with a flashy daisy popping up in back are great for the little gals.

One hat that will appeal to women who are limited as to how many hats they can buy is equipped with giant yellow, green, red and blue flowers on a pale olive green net backing. That's four hats in one!

It seems many hats are taking a completely new look this year, but the old styles are still around. A beret in a combination shiny and dull straw is very soft and still popular, and a sailor with a dangling rose on a back strap in an old style with a new turn.

Yankees Preparing Well

Anyone who bets against the Yankees to win the American League pennant this year doesn't know how well prepared the New York club is to defend its title.

Not since Don Larsen saw a telephone pole move in front of his car early one morning during spring training six months before his perfect game in the World Series have the Yankees gone into a season with the buildup that has accompanied them this spring.

With Roger Maris acquited of being unfriendly, Clete Boyer still facing a similar charge and Phil Linz being under police guard because of unkind remarks he made about Puerto Ricans, the Yankees have teamed up to overshadow Bo Belinsky in the extra-curricular capering department.

With this beginning, they've got to win: 1. New York, 2. Baltimore, 3. Chicago, 4. Cleveland, 5. Detroit, 6. Boston, 7. Minnesota, 8. Los Angeles, 9. Kansas City, 10. Washington.

YANKEES—Proving for the third straight year that anyone can manage the Yankees.

ORIOLES—The B boys (Brooks, Barber, Bunker) will get them into second.

INDIANS—Pitching problems, but top caliber elsewhere.

TIGERS—Top years ahead for Wickersham and Lolich not to mention Kaline.

RED SOX—Despite what Dick Stuart says, Bosox will be improved.

TWINS—Power and Pascual, but little else.

ANGELS—Dean Chance can't pitch every day.

Repeat For Cards

Having correctly tabbed the Cards to win the National League a year ago, but missing badly on the Twins, you can't jump off a winner.

With Lou Brock in harness a full season and pitching from the likes of Bob Gibson, Curt Simmons and Ray Sadecki, all the Cards need is a healthy Tim McCarver to beat the Yanks again in the World Series.

In the National League: 1. St. Louis, 2. Philadelphia, 3. San Francisco, 4. Cincinnati, 5. Los Angeles, 6. Milwaukee, 7. Pittsburgh, 8. Chicago, 9. Houston, 10. New York.

CARDINALS—Biggest question is whether Red Schoendienst will last out the season.

PHILLIES—With Belinsky and Stuart on the same club, there's got to be trouble.

GIANTS—Without a manager, the Giants could win it, but according to baseball tradition, you've got to have someone make out the lineup card.

REDS—They'll be just as good as in 1964, but others will be better.

DODGERS—No one can win with the best pitcher in baseball throwing only once a week.

BRAVES—Bobby Bragan will finish two places higher than his ball club.

PIRATES—Could change places with Cubs.

CUBS—Haven't been in first division in 18 years and aren't about to find out how it feels this time.

METS—They don't even have a domed stadium, but with Berra and Spahn, they'll continue to draw the fans—which next to winning is really what the game is all about.

PLAYER CARVES 65

...Black-Clad Golfer Leads Slaughter On Par In Masters

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—South Africa's Gary Player, an icy little killer in black, carved out a seven-under-par 65 for the first round lead in the Masters Golf Tournament Thursday and became the chief culprit in the terrible slaughter of the proud Augusta National course.

Another turn of the ball on two-holes—a putt on the second and a magnificent sand blast on the 12th—and the craftsman from Johannesburg would have bettered the Masters record of 64, set by Lloyd Mangrum in the first round in 1940.

Even so, it was Player—without a bogey and flying every approach at the pin like a rifle shot—who led the mass birdie assault on Bob Jones' 6,980-yard, par 72 green monster.

With perfect playing conditions—temperature in the mid-80s, no wind and lush, slow greens—the course took its worst beating in history.

Player's near perfect round gave him a two-shot edge over a quarter which included favorite Jack Nicklaus, Champagne Tony Lema, outsiders Dan Sikes and Tommy Aaron, all tied at 67.

Thirty-three players were under par and 44 were par or better among the star-spangled field of 91, including the golfing greats of the world.

The previous most damaging attack on the broad, picturesque layout was made in the first round in 1958 when 17 bettered par and 31 at least equalled it.

Player, who thrives on raisins, lifts weights for exercise and wears black for a psychological feeling of strength, had all the factors going for him on this clear, bright day in the heart of the Georgia pine country.

He started with a streak of three straight birdies and never relaxed.

He sank an eight-foot putt at the first, almost canned an eagle at the par 5 second where his 15-foot putt stopped on the edge of the hole and knocked in a 15-footer at the third.

These were three of his birds and he had four more coming.

He got another at the 530-yard eighth, reaching the green in two; birds also on the par 5 13th and 15th and then he closed out his streak by putting his approach to within three feet of the 16th.

The crowd, part of an estimated throng of 30,000, let out a tremendous roar when he sank it.

The methodical South African, only foreigner ever ever to win the Masters—the year was 1961—had his only anxious moment at the 470-yard 10th.

There he hit his tee shot into the woods, approached short and then had to sink a 30-foot putt for his par 4.

"Whew—that was a corker," Player said, doffing his white baseball-style cap.

That and a small dab of white on his black shoes provided the only departure from his black attire.

He looked like an undertaker driving nails in the coffin of the Augusta course and his challengers.

Nicklaus, the 25-year-old Golden Bear from Columbus, Ohio, put in his damaging licks with brute strength that enabled him to birdie the four par 5 holes and add two others with good putts.

He sank a seven-footer at the first hole and rolled in from 20 feet at the sixth. His only bogey came on the short 12th where he missed the green and then had to sink a tough four-footer to keep from three-putting.

Lema had a bizarre round, starting with seven straight pars and then exploding into a streak that produced four birdies and an eagle in the space of five holes.

He went birdie-birdie-birdie-birdie from the eighth through the 11th, with no putt over eight feet, and after bogeying the short 14th from a trap, knocked in an eagle at the 475-yard 13th. A drive and five-iron put him on the green 12 feet away and he sank.

He missed short putts on the 17th and 18th, three-putting the last.

Aaron, former Walker Cup player and a pro of five years who never has won a tournament, putted phenomenally on the big, rolling greens. He had one putt of 12 feet, another 35 and closed out his round with a 22-footer at the 18th.

Sikes, 34, a hungry-looking six-footer from Wildwood, Fla., three-putted the fourth and fifth holes back-to-back for bogeys and had seven birdies, with putts between eight and 10 feet.

—DOUBLEHEADER SCHEDULED FOR 1:30 AT NU DIAMOND—

Huskers Meet Defending Champs

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Missouri will send its lone returning ace off last year's top Big Eight pitching staff against Nebraska at 1:30 today when the two teams square off in the opening of the conference baseball season at the NU diamond.

Left-hander Jack Stroud, coach Hi Simmons' choice to open against the Huskers, had the highest earned run average on the Tiger staff a year ago with a 1.51 ERA, but the 6-0 senior led Missouri in innings pitched (71 1/3) and strikeouts (88) while compiling an 8-2 mark.

Stroud was the Missouri starter in the College World Series championship game against Minnesota and was the losing pitcher in the 5-1 contest as the Gophers drove him to the showers with two runs in the second, two in the third and another in the fourth.

Missouri's other two starting hurlers in the College World Series—junior Keith Weber and sophomore Dennis Musgraves—both signed professional contracts.

Stroud was the victim of wildness in Missouri's only loss of the current season, a 10-6 setback at the hands of Ohio State a week ago. Missouri earlier had defeated Texas Tech, 26-3 and 6-3.

Nebraska coach Tony Sharpe, whose club dropped a doubleheader to Morningside Wednesday to open the season, expects to throw Bob Hergenrader, a junior southpaw against the Tigers in the Big Eight opener with Stan Bahnsen slated to pitch the second game of today's doubleheader.

Missouri has only one starter back from the lineup that played Minnesota in the 1964 championship game. Bob Robben was at second base for Missouri in that contest, but he will be at shortstop today against the Huskers.

However, six of the Missouri starters for today's contest are hitting better than .300, led by centerfielder Dan Rudanovich's .571 mark.

None of the Huskers came up with more than one hit in each of Wednesday's two games, however Gary Tunnison managed two hits for the afternoon, one in each contest.

The two teams are scheduled to play a single game Saturday at 1 p.m.

In other conference games this weekend Iowa State is at Kansas State, Oklahoma State is at Oklahoma and Colorado is at Kansas. All series are set for doubleheaders today with single games Saturday.

Non-conference standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Missouri	2	1	.667
Kansas	3	2	.600
Oklahoma State	2	2	.500
Kansas State	1	4	.200
Oklahoma	1	5	.167
Colorado	1	5	.167
Iowa State	0	0	.000
Nebraska	0	2	.000

Yankees Preparing Well

Anyone who bets against the Yankees to win the American League pennant this year doesn't know how well prepared the New York club is to defend its title.

Not since Don Larsen saw a telephone pole move in front of his car early one morning during spring training six months before his perfect game in the World Series have the Yankees gone into a season with the buildup that has accompanied them this spring.

With Roger Maris acquited of being unfriendly, Clete Boyer still facing a similar charge and Phil Linz being under police guard because of unkind remarks he made about Puerto Ricans, the Yankees have teamed up to overshadow Bo Belinsky in the extra-curricular capering department.

With this beginning, they've got to win: 1. New York, 2. Baltimore, 3. Chicago, 4. Cleveland, 5. Detroit, 6. Boston, 7. Minnesota, 8. Los Angeles, 9. Kansas City, 10. Washington.

YANKEES—Proving for the third straight year that anyone can manage the Yankees.

ORIOLES—The B boys (Brooks, Barber, Bunker) will get them into second.

INDIANS—Pitching problems, but top caliber elsewhere.

TIGERS—Top years ahead for Wickersham and Lolich not to mention Kaline.

RED SOX—Despite what Dick Stuart says, Bosox will be improved.

TWINS—Power and Pascual, but little else.

ANGELS—Dean Chance can't pitch every day.

Repeat For Cards

Having correctly tabbed the Cards to win the National League a year ago, but missing badly on the Twins, you can't jump off a winner.

With Lou Brock in harness a full season and pitching from the likes of Bob Gibson, Curt Simmons and Ray Sadecki, all the Cards need is a healthy Tim McCarver to beat the Yanks again in the World Series.

In the National League: 1. St. Louis, 2. Philadelphia, 3. San Francisco, 4. Cincinnati, 5. Los Angeles, 6. Milwaukee, 7. Pittsburgh, 8. Chicago, 9. Houston, 10. New York.

CARDINALS—Biggest question is whether Red Schoendienst will last out the season.

PHILLIES—With Belinsky and Stuart on the same club, there's got to be trouble.

GIANTS—Without a manager, the Giants could win it, but according to baseball tradition, you've got to have someone make out the lineup card.

REDS—They'll be just as good as in 1964, but others will be better.

DODGERS—No one can win with the best pitcher in baseball throwing only once a week.

BRAVES—Bobby Bragan will finish two places higher than his ball club.

PIRATES—Could change places with Cubs.

CUBS—Haven't been in first division in 18 years and aren't about to find out how it feels this time.

METS—They don't even have a domed stadium, but with Berra and Spahn, they'll continue to draw the fans—which next to winning is really what the game is all about.

PLAYER CARVES 65

...Black-Clad Golfer Leads Slaughter On Par In Masters

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—South Africa's Gary Player, an icy little killer in black, carved out a seven-under-par 65 for the first round lead in the Masters Golf Tournament Thursday and became the chief culprit in the terrible slaughter of the proud Augusta National course.

Another turn of the ball on two-holes—a putt on the second and a magnificent sand blast on the 12th—and the craftsman from Johannesburg would have bettered the Masters record of 64, set by Lloyd Mangrum in the first round in 1940.

Even so, it was Player—without a bogey and flying every approach at the pin like a rifle shot—who led the mass birdie assault on Bob Jones' 6,980-yard, par 72 green monster.

With perfect playing conditions—temperature in the mid-80s, no wind and lush, slow greens—the course took its worst beating in history.

Player's near perfect round gave him a two-shot edge over a quarter which included favorite Jack Nicklaus, Champagne Tony Lema, outsiders Dan Sikes and Tommy Aaron, all tied at 67.

Thirty-three players were under par and 44 were par or better among the star-spangled field of 91, including the golfing greats of the world.

The previous most damaging attack on the broad, picturesque layout was made in the first round in 1958 when 17 bettered par and 31 at least equalled it.

Player, who thrives on raisins, lifts weights for exercise and wears black for a psychological feeling of strength, had all the factors going for him on this clear, bright day in the heart of the Georgia pine country.

He started with a streak of three straight birdies and never relaxed.

He sank an eight-foot putt at the first, almost canned an eagle at the par 5 second where his 15-foot putt stopped on the edge of the hole and knocked in a 15-footer at the third.

These were three of his birds and he had four more coming.

He got another at the 530-yard eighth, reaching the green in two; birds also on the par 5 13th and 15th and then he closed out his streak by putting his approach to within three feet of the 16th.

The crowd, part of an estimated throng of 30,000, let out a tremendous roar when he sank it.

The methodical South African, only foreigner ever ever to win the Masters—the year was 1961—had his only anxious moment at the 470-yard 10th.

There he hit his tee shot into the woods, approached short and then had to sink a 30-foot putt for his par 4.

"Whew—that was a corker," Player said, doffing his white baseball-style cap.

That and a small dab of white on his black shoes provided the only departure from his black attire.

He looked like an undertaker driving nails in the coffin of the Augusta course and his challengers.

Nicklaus, the 25-year-old Golden Bear from Columbus, Ohio, put in his damaging licks with brute strength that enabled him to birdie the four par 5 holes and add two others with good putts.

He sank a seven-footer at the first hole and rolled in from 20 feet at the sixth. His only bogey came on the short 12th where he missed the green and then had to sink a tough four-footer to keep from three-putting.

Lema had a bizarre round, starting with seven straight pars and then exploding into a streak that produced four birdies and an eagle in the space of five holes.

He went birdie-birdie-birdie-birdie-birdie from the eighth through the 11th, with no putt over eight feet, and after bogeying the short 14th from a trap, knocked in an eagle at the 475-yard 13th. A drive and five-iron put him on the green 12 feet away and he sank.

He missed short putts on the 17th and 18th, three-putting the last.

Aaron, former Walker Cup player and a pro of five years who never has won a tournament, putted phenomenally on the big, rolling greens. He had one putt of 12 feet, another 35 and closed out his round with a 22-footer at the 18th.

Sikes, 34, a hungry-looking six-footer from Wildwood, Fla., three-putted the fourth and fifth holes back-to-back for bogeys and had seven birdies, with putts between eight and 10 feet.

—DOUBLEHEADER SCHEDULED FOR 1:30 AT NU DIAMOND—

Huskers Meet Defending Champs

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Missouri will send its lone returning ace off last year's top Big Eight pitching staff against Nebraska at 1:30 today when the two teams square off in the opening of the conference baseball season at the NU diamond.

Left-hander Jack Stroud, coach Hi Simmons' choice to open against the Huskers, had the highest earned run average on the Tiger staff a year ago with a 1.51 ERA, but the 6-0 senior led Missouri in innings pitched (71 1/3) and strikeouts (88) while compiling an 8-2 mark.

Stroud was the Missouri starter in the College World Series championship game against Minnesota and was the losing pitcher in the 5-1 contest as the Gophers drove him to the showers with two runs in the second, two in the third and another in the fourth.

Missouri's other two starting hurlers in the College World Series—junior Keith Weber and sophomore Dennis Musgraves—both signed professional contracts.

Stroud was the victim of wildness in Missouri's only loss of the current season, a 10-6 setback at the hands of Ohio State a week ago. Missouri earlier had defeated Texas Tech, 26-3 and 6-3.

Nebraska coach Tony Sharpe, whose club dropped a doubleheader to Morningside Wednesday to open the season, expects to throw Bob Hergenrader, a junior southpaw against the Tigers in the Big Eight opener with Stan Bahnsen slated to pitch the second game of today's doubleheader.

Missouri has only one starter back from the lineup that played Minnesota in the 1964 championship game. Bob Robben was at second base for Missouri in that contest, but he will be at shortstop today against the Huskers.

However, six of the Missouri starters for today's contest are hitting better than .300, led by centerfielder Dan Rudanovich's .571 mark.

None of the Huskers came up with more than one hit in each of Wednesday's two games, however Gary Tunnison managed two hits for the afternoon, one in each contest.

The two teams are scheduled to play a single game Saturday at 1 p.m.

In other conference games this weekend Iowa State is at Kansas State, Oklahoma State is at Oklahoma and Colorado is at Kansas. All series are set for doubleheaders today with single games Saturday.

Non-conference standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Missouri	2	1	.667
Kansas	3	2	.600
Oklahoma State	2	2	.500
Kansas State	1	4	.200
Oklahoma	1	5	.167
Colorado	1	5	.167
Iowa State	0	0	.000
Nebraska	0	2	.000

Top AL Hurlers Suffer Setbacks

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati and Washington belted two of the American League's top pitchers Thursday as baseball's exhibition season started moving north.

The Reds bombarded 20-game winner Gary Peters in their 5-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Washington roughed up Wally Bunker en route to its fifth straight triumph, an 8-3 decision over Baltimore.

Peters gave up four runs and 12 hits in six innings while the White Sox managed only four hits off Jim O'Toole, Sammy Ellis and Bell McCool. Deron Johnson singled and homered across two Red runs, and Frank Robinson clouted a two-run double.

Chicago's Tommy Agee, a rookie outfielder, suffered a broken bone in his right hand in the first inning and will be sidelined for a month.

The Senators touched Bunker, a 19-game winner as a rookie in 1964, for three runs and seven hits in six innings. They also got to Steve Barber, another Oriole regular, for five runs in two innings

Ken McMullen paced the Senators' 14-hit attack with four safeties while Willie Kirkland added two doubles and a single.

Kansas City snapped its nine-game losing streak and extended Minnesota's to six with an 8-4 triumph. Bill Bryan sparked the Athletics with a fourth-inning grand slam homer off Jim Kaat. Zoilo Versalles hit a three-run homer for the Twins in the seventh.

Cleveland defeated San Francisco 4-1 with Stan Williams limiting the Giants to four hits in the first six innings. Williams also singled in the fourth and scored the Indians' final run.

Curt Flood paced St. Louis to a 6-1 triumph over the New York Mets, collecting three singles and a double. Ken Boyer contributed two doubles and a single as the world champions evened their spring record at 13-13.

Jacksonville, the International League champions, defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1.

Three-run homers by Joe Pepitone in the sixth inning and Johnny Blanchard in the ninth inning powered the New York Yankees past Milwaukee 6-1 in a night game.

Golfers To Open Season Against OU, South Dakota

Nebraska is scheduled to open the golf season in a triangular against Omaha and South Dakota Friday at Holmes Park with a dual slated against Iowa State Saturday at Holmes.

Both meets will get under way at 1:30.

Omaha was originally scheduled to open the Husker season Thursday, but the meet was rescheduled to allow South Dakota to participate.

DEER HUNTING BILL PASSED BY COMMITTEE

A bill permitting deer hunting on game refuges for population control purposes was given 8-0 approval by the Legislature's Agriculture and recreation Committee Thursday.

The bill, LB747, introduced chiefly by Rising City Sen. Harold Stryker, was supported by the State Game Commission at a public hearing. No one opposed it.

The committee also advanced another Stryker bill, LB748, prohibiting hunting from an aircraft without a permit.

The committee voted to reconsider its action in killing LB300, authorizing year-round fish snagging in the Missouri River. The committee then took no further action on the bill, introduced chiefly by Norfolk Sen. S. H. Brauer Sr.

Murphy Named To Executive Staff At Ak-Sar-Ben

Omaha—William H. (Bill) Murphy, veteran Thoroughbred racing official, has been appointed an administrative assistant on the executive staff of Ak-Sar-Ben, President A. F. Jacobson announced Thursday.

Murphy, who has been associated with the annual racing meetings at Ak-Sar-Ben for the past 10 years, will assume full-time status under the direction of General Manager James E. (Tom) Brock.

Well-known as an announcer at the Omaha track, Bill became racing administrative assistant on the Ak-Sar-Ben staff three years ago after seven years of announcing the Ak-Sar-Ben Races. However, this duty was only for the five months directly involving the races at Omaha. His new position will make him a full-time staff member.

Murphy will relinquish his duties as assistant racing secretary and announcer at Centennial Track in Denver and racing secretary for the quarterhorse racing in the Mile High City and also as announcer at Turf Paradise in Phoenix.

Former Tennis Star's Funeral Set Saturday

Loma — Funeral services for The Rev. Stanley Siegienski, 58, four-time Western Nebraska tennis champion in the late 1940s, will be held at 10 a.m. here Saturday.

The Rev. Mr. Siegienski died here Wednesday. He was prominent in state tennis circles and twice reached the finals of the state tournament in doubles.

Pius-Southeast Baseball Delayed To Wednesday

Lincoln's opening baseball game of the high school season between Pius X and Southeast, scheduled for Friday, was postponed until Wednesday because of wet grounds.

The game will be played at 4 p.m. at the Pius diamond.

Lincoln Team Loses Doubles Lead In ABC

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Harry Baldwin and Clair Killian of Spokane, Wash., scored clutch strikes in the 10th frame of their final game to take first place in regular doubles Thursday at the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

They totaled 1,262 to oust Mike White and Bill Hoppe of Lincoln, Neb., leaders since Saturday with 1,255.

Henry Yager of Aurora, Ill., rolled the highest series of his 26-year bowling career, 689, to tie Dick Ude of Lincoln for first place in regular singles.

Omaha Ousted In CHL Playoffs

Tulsa, Okla. (AP) — Goalie Don Simmons posted his fourth shutout of the season Thursday night as the Tulsa Oilers captured their Central Hockey League semifinal play-off series with a 4-0 victory over the Omaha Knights.

A crowd of 5,126 saw Simmons block 23 shots as his mates unleashed a torrid attack. It was Tulsa's fourth victory against two losses in the best-of-seven series. Mike Walton celebrated his selection as the CHL rookie of the yaer by getting the Oilers' opening goal.

Kansas HS Coach Hired By Hastings

Hastings (UPI) — Hastings College athletic director Dr. Lynn Farrell announced Thursday that Cal Reimer, coach at Peabody High School, Peabody, Kan., has been hired as assistant football, basketball and track coach for the 1965-66 school year.

Reimer is a graduate of Kansas State Teacher's College at Emporia and has been teaching and coaching in Kansas High Schools for nine years.

In 1963 his Peabody basketball team won the Class B State basketball title. His 1962 squad was runnerup in the tourney.

The Salvation Army's Little Fry cagers closed out their basketball tournament Thursday night with Globe Laundry beating Eagle Raceway 32-20 for the championship. The Havelock Lions defeated King Dollar 43-20 for consolation honors.

Dennis O'Meara of Uni Place received the Mr. Little Fry Award which is given annually to the season's most outstanding player.

An all-star team was also chosen which—with the Eagle Raceway team—will compete in the Mid-America Little Fry Tournament to be held here April 22-24. Other teams competing will include Wichita, Kan.; Sioux Falls, S. D.; Walton All-Stars; Gene Eppley Boys Club of Omaha; Omaha Park and Recreation; and Fremont YMCA.

The all-stars are:

NU Net Opener Set For Friday

With all Nebraska coaches on edge about the weather, tennis coach Ed Higginbotham is sure the Huskers will face South Dakota State Friday.

The Huskers are geared to play on the NU courts if the weather clears, or in the Coliseum at 1 p.m.

He will probably go with Ted Sanko in the No. 1 singles with Scott Nelson, No. 2 and Kile Johnson, No. 3.

Monday the Huskers will host Hastings and go to Creighton Wednesday.

Little Chiefs Schedule Registration Monday

Monday will be registration day at nine schools for the 8-12-year-olds. The time will be from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Exact locations will be announced Sunday.

In an effort to reach every eligible youngster. Hagerty said blanks will also be distributed this year at the schools which they attend.

Russell Spurs Celtics To Win

. . . BOSTON LEADS SERIES

Boston (AP)— Bill Russell spurred ball-hawking, sharp-shooting Boston to a 112-94 National Basketball Association playoff victory over Philadelphia Thursday night.

The Celtics moved into a 2-1 edge in the best-of-seven Eastern Division finals, which continue Friday night on the 76ers' home floor.

Russell, who blamed his own sub-par play for the Celtics' second game defeat, scored 12 of his 19 points in the first quarter. He also had two assists, one blocked shot and one steal in the quarter.

Boston led at the end of the period 34-27 and the visitors never completely regained their composure.

And when Boston hit a third period cold spell and the 76ers ran nine straight points to pull up to 73-64, it was Russell's masterful plays and faking which set up two big baskets by John Havlicek and Tommy Heinsohn.

Early in the final quarter Russell scooped up a loose ball under the defensive boards and fed Casey Jones on a breakway which seemed to kill the 76ers' last hopes. The play made the score 83-67.

Larrabee Streaks To 400 Meter World Record

Berlin (AP) — Olympic champion Mike Larrabee streaked to a world indoor record 46.8 in the 400 meters Thursday and led the United States to easy team victory over a German squad

The U.S. won 10 of 13 events in the two-day indoor meet and piled up 101 points to 56 for the Germans. The American women won their meet 61-52.

Larrabee, a school teacher from Fillmore, Calif., who won the 400 meters in the Tokyo Olympics, led all the way and was almost one full second under the old mark of 47.7.

Top AL Hurlers Suffer Setbacks

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati and Washington belted two of the American League's top pitchers Thursday as baseball's exhibition season started moving north.

The Reds bombarded 20-game winner Gary Peters in their 5-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Washington roughed up Wally Bunker en route to its fifth straight triumph, an 8-3 decision over Baltimore.

Peters gave up four runs and 12 hits in six innings while the White Sox managed only four hits off Jim O'Toole, Sammy Ellis and Bell McCool. Deron Johnson singled and homered across two Red runs, and Frank Robinson clouted a two-run double.

Chicago's Tommy Agee, a rookie outfielder, suffered a broken bone in his right hand in the first inning and will be sidelined for a month.

The Senators touched Bunker, a 19-game winner as a rookie in 1964, for three runs and seven hits in six innings. They also got to Steve Barber, another Oriole regular, for five runs in two innings.

Ken McMullen paced the Senators' 14-hit attack with four safeties while Willie Kirkland added two doubles and a single.

Kansas City snapped its nine-game losing streak and extended Minnesota's to six with an 8-4 triumph. Bill Bryan sparked the Athletics with a fourth-inning grand slam homer off Jim Kaat. Zoilo Versalles hit a three-run homer for the Twins in the seventh.

Cleveland defeated San Francisco 4-1 with Stan Williams limiting the Giants to four hits in the first six innings. Williams also singled in the fourth and scored the Indians' final run.

Curt Flood paced St. Louis to a 6-1 triumph over the New York Mets, collecting three singles and a double. Ken Boyer contributed two doubles and a single as the world champions evened their spring record at 13-13.

Jacksonville, the International League champions, defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1.

Three-run homers by Joe Pepitone in the sixth inning and Johnny Blanchard in the ninth inning powered the New York Yankees past Milwaukee 6-1 in a night game.

Golfers To Open Season Against OU, South Dakota

Nebraska is scheduled to open the golf season in a triangular against Omaha and South Dakota Friday at Holmes Park with a dual slated against Iowa State Saturday at Holmes.

Both meets will get under way at 1:30.

Omaha was originally scheduled to open the Husker season Thursday, but the meet was rescheduled to allow South Dakota to participate.

Murphy Named To Executive Staff At Ak-Sar-Ben

Omaha—William H. (Bill) Murphy, veteran Thoroughbred racing official, has been appointed an administrative assistant on the executive staff of Ak-Sar-Ben, President A. F. Jacobson announced Thursday.

Murphy, who has been associated with the annual racing meetings at Ak-Sar-Ben for the past 10 years, will assume full-time status under the direction of General Manager James E. (Tom) Brock.

Well-known as an announcer at the Omaha track, Bill became racing administrative assistant on the Ak-Sar-Ben staff three years ago after seven years of announcing the Ak-Sar-Ben Races. However, this duty was only for the five months directly involving the races at Omaha. His new position will make him a full-time staff member.

Murphy will relinquish his duties as assistant racing secretary and announcer at Centennial Track in Denver and racing secretary for the quarterhorse racing in the Mile High City and also as announcer at Turf Paradise in Phoenix.

DEER HUNTING BILL PASSED BY COMMITTEE

A bill permitting deer hunting on game refuges for population control purposes was given 8-0 approval by the Legislature's Agriculture and recreation Committee Thursday.

The bill, LB747, introduced chiefly by Rising City Sen. Harold Stryker, was supported by the State Game Commission at a public hearing. No one opposed it.

The committee also advanced another Stryker bill, LB748, prohibiting hunting from an aircraft without a permit.

The committee voted to reconsider its action in killing LB300, authorizing year-round fish snagging in the Missouri River. The committee then took no further action on the bill, introduced chiefly by Norfolk Sen. S. H. Brauer Sr.

The game will be played at 4 p.m. at the Pius diamond.

Lincoln Team Loses Doubles Lead In ABC

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Harry Baldwin and Clair Killian of Spokane, Wash., scored clutch strikes in the 10th frame of their final game to take first place in regular doubles Thursday at the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

They totaled 1,262 to oust Mike White and Bill Hoppe of Lincoln, Neb., leaders since Saturday with 1,255.

Henry Yager of Aurora, Ill., rolled the highest series of his 26-year bowling career, 689, to tie Dick Ude of Lincoln for first place in regular singles.

Omaha Ousted In CHL Playoffs

Tulsa, Okla. (AP) — Goalie Don Simmons posted his fourth shutout of the season Thursday night as the Tulsa Oilers captured their Central Hockey League semifinal play-off series with a 4-0 victory over the Omaha Knights.

A crowd of 5,126 saw Simmons block 23 shots as his mates unleashed a torrid attack. It was Tulsa's fourth victory against two losses in the best-of-seven series. Mike Walton celebrated his selection as the CHL rookie of the yaer by getting the Oilers' opening goal.

Kansas HS Coach Hired By Hastings

Hastings (UPI) — Hastings College athletic director Dr. Lynn Farrell announced Thursday that Cal Reimer, coach at Peabody High School, Peabody, Kan., has been hired as assistant football, basketball and track coach for the 1965-66 school year.

Reimer is a graduate of Kansas State Teacher's College at Emporia and has been teaching and coaching in Kansas High Schools for nine years.

Cubs Boast Young Double Play Team

. . . MEET RED SOX IN OMAHA SATURDAY

Omaha—The Chicago Cubs, who will field the youngest second base-shortstop combination in the National League this season, will put the duo on display here Saturday in a 1:30 p.m. exhibition game against the Boston Red Sox at Rosenblatt Stadium.

The Cubs, seeking to improve their fortunes via a first division finish, are going with a pair of 24-year-olds at the double play combination with Glenn Beckert at second and Roberto Pena at shortstop.

Pena's selection as the Cubs' regular shortstop is one of the big surprises produced during spring training. Roberto, a native of the Dominican Republic, went to camp as a member of the Salt Lake City club of the Pacific Coast league.

Within a month's time, the Cubs decided to promote the fine-fielding Latin athlete as well as name him their starting shortstop. In this manner Pena takes over for veteran Andre Rodgers. Last year, Rodgers was the Cub shortstop, and at the season's end, Andre was traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Roberto.

Pena, who signed his first professional contract in 1960 with Pittsburgh scout Howard Haak, played for Asheville, N.C. in the Southern league. The new Cub batted .303 playing 113 games for Asheville. Thirty-eight of his 131 hits went for extra bases as rapid Roberto poured 14 home runs into the collection of 56 runs batted in.

Beckert is a graduate of the Cubs' farm system and assured promotion to Chicago with an outstanding record at Salt Lake City last year. Used mainly as a shortstop by the Bees, Glenn hit .277 in 152 games with seven homers and 4 runs batted in.

Last fall, the Cubs shifted Beckert, a native of Pittsburgh, to second base in the Arizona instructional league. It was during this time that Beckert stamped himself the Cubs' best second base prospect since the late Ken Hubbs was a fixture for the Chicagoans.

Beckert, an alumnus of Allegheny college, signed his first pro pact with the Red Sox in 1962. After an exceptional first year at Waterloo, Glenn became a Cub via the first year player draft.

NU-Football Postponed

Nebraska's second day of spring football drills were postponed Thursday because of wet grounds. Coach Bob Devaney said his Huskers would try to resume workouts Friday.

NU Thinclads Face Cyclones On Saturday

Nebraska's entire track team will go against clock and tape for the first time this season outdoors in Saturday's dual at Iowa State.

Seven worked on three relay teams at the Texas Relays over the weekend, but none have even been outside to test their individual specialties.

The 440 relay team bagged the trophy in the Texas Relays university divlsion, thanks to sprint sensation Charlie Greene. Charlie, who has chopped his beard, blistered down the stretch in the final leg to bring the Huskers from third into first.

Superior Cindermen Win Triangular Meet

Superior — Doug Anderson won the 100, 220, shot put, discus and pole vault to lead Superior past Hastings St. Cecilia and West Kearney in a triangular track meet Tuesday. Anderson threw the discus 142-5 and set a new school mark in the shot put at 49-1.

Geneva, Ravenna, Kimball, Oxford Fill Vacant Coaching Positions

Oxford's new football coach is Pete Moriarty. The Wolbach native has coached at Callaway the past three seasons after graduating from Kearney State.

Rain Postpones Game

Hastings (AP) —A baseball doubleheader between Hastings and the University of Omaha at Omaha Friday has been rained out, Hastings college spokesmen reported Thursday.

Cubs Boast Young Double Play Team

. . . MEET RED SOX IN OMAHA SATURDAY

Omaha—The Chicago Cubs, who will field the youngest second base-shortstop combination in the National League this season, will put the duo on display here Saturday in a 1:30 p.m. exhibition game against the Boston Red Sox at Rosenblatt Stadium.

The Cubs, seeking to improve their fortunes via a first division finish, are going with a pair of 24-year-olds at the double play combination with Glenn Beckert at second and Roberto Pena at shortstop.

Pena's selection as the Cubs' regular shortstop is one of the big surprises produced during spring training. Roberto, a native of the Dominican Republic, went to camp as a member of the Salt Lake City club of the Pacific Coast league.

Within a month's time, the Cubs decided to promote the fine-fielding Latin athlete as well as name him their starting shortstop. In this manner Pena takes over for veteran Andre Rodgers. Last year, Rodgers was the Cub shortstop, and at the season's end, Andre was traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Roberto.

Pena, who signed his first professional contract in 1960 with Pittsburgh scout Howard Haak, played for Asheville, N.C. in the Southern league. The new Cub batted .303 playing 113 games for Asheville. Thirty-eight of his 131 hits went for extra bases as rapid Roberto poured 14 home runs into the collection of 56 runs batted in.

Beckert is a graduate of the Cubs' farm system and assured promotion to Chicago with an outstanding record at Salt Lake City last year. Used mainly as a shortstop by the Bees, Glenn hit .277 in 152 games with seven homers and 4 runs batted in.

Last fall, the Cubs shifted Beckert, a native of Pittsburgh, to second base in the Arizona instructional league. It was during this time that Beckert stamped himself the Cubs' best second base prospect since the late Ken Hubbs was a fixture for the Chicagoans.

Beckert, an alumnus of Allegheny college, signed his first pro pact with the Red Sox in 1962. After an exceptional first year at Waterloo, Glenn became a Cub via the first year player draft.

Committee Advances Dairy Fair Trade Bill

A bill to establish a fair trade practices act for the dairy industry was advanced to the floor on a 5-1 vote of the Legislature's Agriculture Committee Thursday.

The bill, LB161, introduced chiefly by Crofton Sen. J. W. Burbach, received nearly united support from dairy producers, processors and retailers at an earlier public hearing.

The bill defines a number of unfair trade practices for the industry, prohibits both distributors and retailers from engaging in such practices and places administration of the act in the hands of a dairy trade practices division under the State Agriculture Department

No Below Cost Sale

Among other things, the act would prohibit the selling of dairy products at below cost, discriminating in price between different purchasers and extending credit to retailers in excess of 60 days.

The cost of administering the act would be borne by the dairy industry through payment of a special levy.

The committee killed LB361, introduced chiefly by Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland, which would have increased the maximum amount that may be raised by taxation for county fairs.

Advanced by the committee were:

LB504 — classifying the morning glory as a noxious weed and prohibiting sale of the morning glory seed.

LB860—increasing from $25 to $100 the permit fee for plants which process garbage for animals and establishing regulations over these plants.

LB861—establishing health requirements and other regulations for rendering plants, those facilities which dispose of dead animals.

Struck By Auto, Boy Is Treated And Sent Home

A 4-year-old boy was treated and released at a hospital after being struck by a car at Cotner and A, Thursday afternoon.

David Hanersky of 1255 So. 50th was crossing Cotner north of A when he was struck by a northeast-bound car driven by Walter E. Anderson, 37, of 3621 Everett.

Police said that Anderson was going approximately 5 miles per hour just before the accident.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY

Reader Told Not To Worry About Stock Firm's Action

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

Rukeyser

Since he is dealing with a reliable house, all that is required is to request the firm to transfer the stock back to his name, and return the certificate to him via registered mail.

Since the reader wants to set up a trust fund for his wife, he could ask the bank as trustee to take over, and arrange to get the stock from the brokerage firm. The reader complains that there has been delay. If the facts are as stated, there is no problem. In case of a dispute, the bank would know how to notify the New York Stock Exchange and the SEC, but there appears to be no need for this.

The reader also owns an infrequently occupied home in Orlando, Florida, which he says is not readily marketable. He does not want to sacrifice the asset at public auction, but would take three-fourths of true value. Since the couple doubtless could use additional income, he should discuss the trustee methods of stimulating broker interest in the house for either sale or rental.

Q. From Bethesda, Md., a correspondent writes: "My interest in mutual funds has recently been aroused by a load-fund salesman. However, other things being equal, I can see an obvious advantage to no-load funds.

"I am quite a novice with mutual funds. Am I correct in assuming that these funds are purchased directly from the fund and not from ordinary brokerage houses, this avoiding the usual brokerage commission."

A. I am sending by mail a list of no load funds. They differ primarily in that they are sold at net asset value without a premium, or load, for sales expenses. Since there is no fee available for the services or dealers, they must be bought directly from the sponsors, usually investment counsel firms. Many of the load funds during advancing stock markets have, however, quickly offset the selling cost.

It is a mistake to look only at the "load" and to neglect other factors. In giving the batting average for the past five years of diversified mutual funds, putting emphasis on growth, Arthur Wiesenberger & Company showed that four out of five of the leaders in capital gains charged a "load."

The records of mutual funds can be observed in any of the standard manuals in libraries of banks and investment companies, such as Wiesenberger's "Investment Companies."

Q. A reader in Columbus, Ga. writes: "I would like your opinion as to how I can best channel my investments so that I can provide my children's college education and how I can start a portfolio which will take care of my needs in later life when it comes time to buy a home, retirement etc.

"At present I have $30,000 in whole life insurance, $1,500 in savings and $300 in Dreyfus Fund.

"Do you recommend further investment in mutual funds or common stocks? If yes, which ones or should I increase my investment in Dreyfus Fund?

"I should also like to know what you mean by 'no load' funds."

A. This young professional man, now doing a stint in the armed services, has more ambition than available capital. It would take more than a paragraph to give this individul a blueprint for a life financial plan. I have attempted to do this in my nine books, particularly the last two paperbacks published by Monarch Books at Derby, Conn.

The Dreyfus Fund is managed by a reputable firm. In the past five years its capital gain ran 66% — better than some, but not as much as others. You should retain your holdings. This fund has an entry fee. The "no load" funds charge no premium for sales expense. I suggest you buy good mutual funds regularly and get the price protection from "dollar averaging."

NU Students To Protest U.S. Policy

University of Nebraska students have been called to demonstrate against American military policy in South Viet Nam, Monday, in front of the Military and Naval Science Building, 14th and Vine, according to Allen Gerlach, chairman of the Student Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

They will demonstrate from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

While the demonstrators realize their protest will not have a direct effect on U.S. policy, Gerlach said that their march would make people aware that opposition exists.

"It will arouse public interest in the other side of the question," he said.

The demonstrators advocate U.S. withdrawal from South Viet Nam allowing them to decide for themselves what kind of government will control them. While Gerlach would hate to see the country go Communist," he feels that with U.S. withdrawal it would inevitably become an independent communist country.

Syas To Push For Omaha Withdrawal

State Sen. George Syas said Thursday he will renew after the May general city election his attempt to persuade the Omaha city council to pull Omaha out of the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

Syas sent a letter to council members in March urging withdrawal from the league.

"The letter was just to plant the seed," Syas said. "I'll push this when the new council is elected."

In the letter last month, Syas wrote:

"Through the years I have noted a lack of coordination of cities, lack of political strength in the Legislature and a lack of political influence." He suggested Omaha consider using the money paid for league membership to send a full-time lobbyist to the legislature.

Omaha's membership fee to the league this year is $4,524.

Greenlief Will Attend National Guard Conference

Omaha (AP) — The National Guard Association of Nebraska will hold its annual conference in Omaha April 10 and 11 with attention focused on the pending merger of the National Guard and Army Reserve systems.

Maj. Jack P. Hultgren, conference chairman, said Maj. Gen. Francis S. Greenlief, deputy chief of the National Guard Bureau in Washington, will be one of the experts from whom the Nebraska guardsmen hope to learn more about the proposed merger.

Classes Set For Flight Instructors

The State Aeronautics Department will sponsor a refresher course for flight instructors April 18-24, Director James Sandstedt said Thursday.

Twenty instructors from across the state will participate in the course, including both ground and flight instruction, according to Sandstedt.

Stock Market Rally Best In 6 Weeks

New York (AP)—The stock market Thursday put on its best rally in six weeks as the pace of trading grew considerably livelier.

Volume rose to 5.76 million shares from 4.44 million Wednesday and was the largest since March 15 when 6.01 million shares changed hands.

The popular stock market averages made their best gains since Feb. 24. The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 4.96 to 897.90.

Among factors cited by analysts for the better action on Wall Street were the moderate tone of President Johnson's speech Wednesday night on Viet Nam, a flow of improving income reports from corporations and investment demand for blue chips which again gave the market excellent leadership.

Of 1,364 issues traded, gainers outnumbered losers by 751 to 353. New highs for the year totaled 116 and new lows 14.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.3 to 335.3 with industrials up 1.9, rails up .7 and utilities up .5.

The renewal of bullish feeling was underlined by the list 15 most active stocks. Twelve of these rose, two were unchanged and Standard Oil New Jersey declined ⅝.

The most active stock for the second straight day was an oil—Commonwealth. This speculative, low-priced favorite rose 3⅛ to 11⅞ on 145,200 shares.

Airlines produced some of the best gainers as they responded further to rising traffice and profits, at the same time rebounding from recent profit taking. KLM rose 2⅜, Northwest Air Lines 1⅝, American 1¼ and United 1⅜.

Aerospace issues, especially those involved in recent news of orders for aircraft, also were strong. Boeing climbed 2¾, United Aircraft 1¾ and Douglas Aircraft 1⅜.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange Volume was 2.1 million shares compared with 1.64 million Wednesday.

Reader Told Not To Worry About Stock Firm's Action

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

Rukeyser

Since he is dealing with a reliable house, all that is required is to request the firm to transfer the stock back to his name, and return the certificate to him via registered mail.

Since the reader wants to set up a trust fund for his wife, he could ask the bank as trustee to take over, and arrange to get the stock from the brokerage firm. the reader complains that there has been delay. If the facts are as stated, there is no problem. In case of a dispute, the bank would know how to notify the New York Stock Exchange and the SEC, but there appears to be no need for this.

The reader also owns an infrequently occupied home in Orlando, Florida, which he says is not readily marketable. He does not want to sacrifice the asset at public auction, but would take three-fourths of true value. Since the couple doubtless could use additional income, he should discuss the trustee methods of stimulating broker interest in the house for either sale or rental.

Q. From Bethesda, Md., a correspondent writes: "My interest in mutual funds has recently been aroused by a load-fund salesman. However, other things being equal, I can see an obvious advantage to no-load funds.

"I am quite a novice with mutual funds. Am I correct in assuming that these funds are purchased directly from the fund and not from ordinary brokerage houses, this avoiding the usual brokerage commission."

A. I am sending by mail a list of no load funds. They differ primarily in that they are sold at net asset value without a premium, or load, for sales expenses. Since there is no fee available for the services or dealers, they must be bought directly from the sponsors, usually investment counsel firms. Many of the load funds during advancing stock markets have, however, quickly offset the selling cost.

It is a mistake to look only at the "load" and to neglect other factors. In giving the batting average for the past five years of diversified mutual funds, putting emphasis on growth, Arthur Wiesenberger & Company showed that four out of five of the leaders in capital gains charged a "load."

The records of mutual funds can be observed in any of the standard manuals in libraries of banks and investment companies, such as Wiesenberger's "Investment Companies."

Q. A reader in Columbus, Ga. writes: "I would like your opinion as to how I can best channel my investments so that I can provide my children's college education and how I can start a portfolio which will take care of my needs in later life when it comes time to buy a home, retirement etc.

"At present I have $30,000 in whole life insurance, $1,500 in savings and $300 in Dreyfus Fund.

"Do you recommend further investment in mutual funds or common stocks? If yes, which ones or should I increase my investment in Dreyfus Fund?

"I should also like to know what you mean by 'no load' funds."

A. This young professional man, now doing a stint in the armed services, has more ambition than available capital. It would take more than a paragraph to give this individul a blueprint for a life financial plan. I have attempted to do this in my nine books, particularly the last two paperbacks published by Monarch Books at Derby, Conn.

The Dreyfus Fund is managed by a reputable firm. In the past five years its capital gain ran 66% — better than some, but not as much as others. You should retain your holdings. This fund has an entry fee. The "no load" funds charge no premium for sales expense. I suggest you buy good mutual funds regularly and get the price protection from "dollar averaging."

NU Students To Protest U.S. Policy

University of Nebraska students have been called to demonstrate against American military policy in South Viet Nam, Monday, in front of the Military and Naval Science Building, 14th and Vine, according to Allen Gerlach, chairman of the Student Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

They will demonstrate from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

While the demonstrators realize their protest will not have a direct effect on U.S. policy, Gerlach said that their march would make people aware that opposition exists.

"It will arouse public interest in the other side of the question," he said.

The demonstrators advocate U.S. withdrawal from South Viet Nam allowing them to decide for themselves what kind of government will control them. While Gerlach would hate to see the country go Communist," he feels that with U.S. withdrawal it would inevitably become an independent communist country.

Syas To Push For Omaha Withdrawal

State Sen. George Syas said Thursday he will renew after the May general city election his attempt to persuade the Omaha city council to pull Omaha out of the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

Syas sent a letter to council members in March urging withdrawal from the league.

"The letter was just to plant the seed," Syas said. "I'll push this when the new council is elected."

In the letter last month, Syas wrote:

"Through the years I have noted a lack of coordination of cities, lack of political strength in the Legislature and a lack of political influence." He suggested Omaha consider using the money paid for league membership to send a full-time lobbyist to the legislature.

Omaha's membership fee to the league this year is $4,524.

Greenlief Will Attend National Guard Conference

Omaha (AP) — The National Guard Association of Nebraska will hold its annual conference in Omaha April 10 and 11 with attention focused on the pending merger of the National Guard and Army Reserve systems.

Maj. Jack P. Hultgren, conference chairman, said Maj. Gen. Francis S. Greenlief, deputy chief of the National Guard Bureau in Washington, will be one of the experts from whom the Nebraska guardsmen hope to learn more about the proposed merger.

Classes Set For Flight Instructors

The State Aeronautics Department will sponsor a refresher course for flight instructors April 18-24, Director James Sandstedt said Thursday.

Twenty instructors from across the state will participate in the course, including both ground and flight instruction, according to Sandstedt.

Stock Market Rally Best In 6 Weeks

New York (AP)—The stock market Thursday put on its best rally in six weeks as the pace of trading grew considerably livelier.

Volume rose to 5.76 million shares from 4.44 million Wednesday and was the largest since March 15 when 6.01 million shares changed hands.

The popular stock market averages made their best gains since Feb. 24. The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 4.96 to 897.90.

Among factors cited by analysts for the better action on Wall Street were the moderate tone of President Johnson's speech Wednesday night on Viet Nam, a flow of improving income reports from corporations and investment demand for blue chips which again gave the market excellent leadership.

General Motors rose 1⅛ to a new peak of 104, standing as an example of an investment grade stock of huge capitalization.

Of 1,364 issues traded, gainers outnumbered losers by 751 to 353. New highs for the year totaled 116 and new lows 14.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.3 to 335.3 with industrials up 1.9, rails up .7 and utilities up .5.

The renewal of bullish feeling was underlined by the list 15 most active stocks. Twelve of these rose, two were unchanged and Standard Oil New Jersey declined ⅝.

The most active stock for the second straight day was an oil—Commonwealth. This speculative, low-priced favorite rose ⅜ to 11⅜ on 145,200 shares.

Airlines produced some of the best gainers as they responded further to rising traffice and profits, at the same time rebounding from recent profit taking. KLM rose 2⅜, Northwest Air Lines 1¾, American 1¼ and United 1⅜.

Aerospace issues, especially those involved in recent news of orders for aircraft, also were strong. Boeing climbed 2¾, United Aircraft 1⅜ and Douglas Aircraft 1⅜.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange Volume was 2.1 million shares compared with 1.64 million Wednesday.

LBJ Leaving Southeast Asia Plan Idea To Black

Washington (AP) — President Johnson said Thursday night he has no definite, detailed plan for helping the development of Southeast Asia But he said he has commissioned Eugene Black to take up the whole matter with Secretary General U Thant of the United Nations.

Black is an experienced figure in international financial affairs—for 13 years he headed the World Bank—who was tapped by Johnson to lead a committee in the search for ways to develop Southeast Asia. Black came to the White House Thursday and met with Johnson and a dozen or so key advisers.

Johnson proposed that nations band together, Russia included, to assist the Far East. He did this in a speech in Baltimore Wednesday night. At the same time he suggested the United Nations take the initiative.

Johnson's Southeast Asia peace offer won wide applause around the non-Communist world Thursday, but a ringing and not unexpected rejection came from one of the most important quarters —Red China.

Black To Assure

Thursday night Johnson told reporters, with Black by his side and government officials sitting around the cabinet table, that he had asked Black to get together with U Thant and assure the secretary general of America's desire "to be helpful in any Southeast Asia plan that could be evolved."

Johnson said U Thant's familiarity with the area and his prestige there should be of great help.

Black said he has no date with U Thant yet, that he just heard about his new assignment Wednesday, and that he came to Washington to get a better understanding of it.

Johnson said government officials outlined what is being done in the field of assistance to Sountheast Asia, the extent of resources available for any additional assistance, and provided an evaluation of how programs are operating.

No Details

When a reporter pressed for details of what Johnson has in mind, he said he had asked U Thant Wednesday night to evolve a plan and:

"Now you are asking me to evolve it for him. That I'm not going to do."

Johnson said former President Dwight D. Eisenhower called him Thursday and said he had listened to the President's speech Wednesday night with great interest, commended the selection of Black, and agreed to see Johnson when he comes east the first of next month.

Peking's turndown was expected. It had been predicted by U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson at a cabinet meeting shortly before word of the Chinese broadcast denunciation arrived on news wires.

More 'Thoughtful'

Stevenson, talking to newsmen after the White House session, held out hope that the Soviet Union would give a more "thoughtful" response. He declined to forecast North Viet Nam's reply—generally regarded as crucial at this stage.

Other White House sources said Johnson, scanning the international horizon for Communist reaction, does not believe the Reds are ready for Viet Nam peace talks now.

U.S. officials said that while the Soviet leadership continued to denounce U.S. activities in Viet Nam, the Johnson offer was published in the government-controlled Russian press. They said it was published also in Hanoi, which has opposed negotiations hitherto.

But Johnson went ahead with his two-pronged peace campaign announced in His speech Wednesday night while Washington diplomacy gave the Communists more time to consider.

San Diego Robber Holds Off Police In Pawn Shop Battle

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—A holdup man killed a pawn shop employe Thursday, police reported, and then for four hours held off officers armed with tear gas, concussion grenades, an armored car, riot guns and tommy guns.

After a battle which turned a downtown street into a bullet-swept no-man's land, police rushed into the shattered shop and captured the gunman.

He had been shot in the stomach and arm. Police said he was dazed and helpless when they reached him.

Police identified the wounded man as Robert Page Anderson, 25, a San Diego laborer. His condition was listed as serious at county hospital. Police said he was conscious, but refused to talk.

Shot to death in the holdup was Louis Richards, a pawn shop salesman. A second employe, Theodore Sweinty, ran up a flight of stairs and escaped.

Newsman Dies

A newsman, Robert Crandall, 50, editor of a San Diego biweekly paper, The Independent, collapsed and died of an apparent heart attack during the battle.

The battle started when a passerby told hotel clerk C. H. Chiles a robbery was under way in a pawn shop in the Penn Hotel building at 5th Avenue and F Streets. Chiles investigated. He said he saw a man who waved a pistol at him, and ran.

Moments later, at 10:18 a.m., police arrived, retreated before a volley of fire, and called reinforcements.

In the door of the shop Richards lay, dead or dying, as bullets screamed overhead. A deputy coroner said he died from a .22 caliber bullet in the abdomen. Police said they used no .22 weapons.

Helped Himself

The bandit helped himself to pistols, shotguns and ammunition from the shop's shelves, officers said. His gunfire kept police huddling behind parked cars.

Police Sgt. Allen Brown, armed with a shotgun, crawled to the doorway, examined Richards, and signaled others—with a thumbs-down gesture—that he was dead.

Tear gas shells were fired into the shop, their acrid fumes drifting down the cordoned-off street amid a steady rain. Each shell brought more return fire. Police pleas that he surrender—broadcast on bullhorns—were spurned.

Armored Car

An armored car of the type used to deliver cash was driven in front of the shop and officers fired from it into the pawnshop.

Concussion grenades were obtained from the U.S. Navy. Two were thrown into the shop. The blasts blew out the remains of the shop's front windows.

More shots came from within. Then there was another silence.

Heavily armed officres rushed inside, guns ready. On a mezzanine at the rear of the shop they found the gunman. He made no move to resist as they grabbed him.

Senate Panel Broadens To Johnson's Voting Bill

Washington (AP)—Negro voting-rights guarantees far broader than those recommended by President Johnson were written Thursday into the pending administration bill to end racial discrimination at the polls.

A bloc of nine senators — six Democrats and three Republicans—pushed five new provisions through the Senate Judiciary Committee. The proposed changes include a ban on poll taxes in state and local elections.

—A provision outlawing intimidation of people seeking to register or vote would be broadened to cover private citizens, as well as state or local officials.

—One would let the government send federal officials to register voters in any state or election unit where less than 25% of the voting-age Negro population was registered.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a major architect of the administration proposal, opposed the changes.

Freight Car Measures Draw Opposition Of Eastern Rails

Washington (AP)—A spokesman for more than a score of railroads which operate east of the Mississippi River Thursday opposed bills designed to make sure there are enough railroad freight cars available in the county.

David E. Smuker, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, expressed his views at a Senate commerce subcommittee hearing.

Earlier, Patrick D. Sutherland, Washington state utilities commissioner, and representatives of the Agricultural Department, the American Farm Bureau Federation and the American Plywood Association supported the measures.

The bills would give the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to set per-day charges for use of freight cars on a basis that would encourage railroads which are short in car ownership to acquire a proportionate share of the number of cars needed to meet the needs of commerce and national defense.

Smuker said the artificial standard, as he put it, of fixing compensation or car hire as provided in the bills would be inequitable and impractical.

It would result, he said, in unjust enrichment of the few carriers that can best afford to buy cars, a burden on others, and an excessive amount of empty-car mileage. He suggests more efficient use of the present car fleet.

Nebraskans Back Bills

Sutherland testified that car shortages in the Pacific northwest are becoming worse and are affecting lumber and grain interests vital to Washington's economy. Shippers and processors of sugar beets, wheat, plywood and other products attest to the seriousness of the problem, he added.

Others who supported the bills were Guy R. Hubbard, Seattle, a member of the Plywood association; Emett J. Smith, Chicago, traffic manager of a lumber concern; Matt Triggs of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Sens. Carl T. Curtis and Roman R. Hruska of Nebraska.

Eight Big Oil Firms Labeled Price Fixers

Newark, N.J. (UPI)—Eight of the largest oil and petroleum companies in the country Thursday were charged in a federal indictment with fixing the prices of gasoline sold in a three-state area

The sales in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Delaware amount to 3.6 billion gallons and $720 million.

U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said civil suits also have been filed against the companies

The companies named in the indictment are the American Oil Co. of Chicago; Atlantic Refining Co. of Philadelphia; Cities Service Oil Corp., Bartlesville, Okla.; Gulf Oil Co., Pittsburgh; Humble Oil and Refining Co., Houston; Cities Service Co., New York; Sinclair Refining Co. and the Socony Mobile Co., both of New York.

Carey Won't Quit AFL-CIO Post

Washington (AP) — James B. Carey, clinging to the remnants of his 30-year career as a national labor leader, refused Thursday to resign his high AFL-CIO post despite election fraud charges.

Carey rejected AFL-CIO President George Meany's demand that he quit the executive council of the labor federation following his resignation as president of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Cab-Driving Ex-Governor Has New Job

Chester, W. Va. (AP) — William C. Marland, the former West Virginia governor who was found driving a cab in Chicago last month, has a new job.

The 47-year-old Marland will be associated with James Edwards, a former Huntington, W. Va. man who served on the West Virginia Racing Commission during the former governor's administration.

Edwards operates Waterford Park a horse race track here, as well as mattress factories and steel fabricating plants in 13 states.

Edwards, in making the announcement here Thursday, said Marland will have an important position in his firm and will have considerable responsibility and authority.

Marland was governor from 1953 to 1957. When his term ended he ran twice for the U.S Senate, but he was defeated.

Visitors to the museum will be able to sit in a model cabin of an interplanetary spaceship and see a movie of how the earth looks from space. The cabin will seat 100 spectators.

Wedgewood Area Group Plans To Build Swim Pool

Construction of a swimming pool is the goal of the newly organized Wedgewood Area Recreation Association started by residents from the Wedgewood and Maple Village subdivisions.

Some 65 persons met Thursday evening to discuss the formation of an association to sell membership bonds, supervise construction of the pool and manage the facility.

Two locations are being considered for the swimming pool and will be voted on at the next meeting April 20. They are sites north of Wedgewood Lake or on A Street adjacent to Seacrest Field.

Ervin Peterson of Peterson Construction Co. has indicated he will donate the land for the pool at whichever site the association selects, according to Neil Coffin, one of the elected board members.

Trio In Contempt Of Congress For Refusing To Talk To HUAC Meet

Washington (AP)— Two leaders of Women Strike for Peace and a New York man were convicted of contempt of Congress Thursday for refusing to testify at a closed session of a House UnAmerican Activities Subcommittee.

The committee sought to ask them what part they played in trying to get a visa for a visit to this country by a Japanese professor who has opposed nuclear weapons and who won the Lenin Peace Prize in 1958.

Found guilty by U.S. District Judge Edward M. Curran on two counts of contempt were: Mrs. Dagmar Wilson and Mrs. Donna Allen. Both are from Washington.

The third defendant, Russell Nixon, was found guilty on one count. He is general manager of "The Guardian," a New York publication he described as a progressive weekly newspaper. Each count carries a maximum of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Mrs. Wilson said she hopes the trial aided in "better explaining our position on peace and added that she feels that "peace is on trial." Women Strike for Peace opposed nuclear weapons.

LBJ Leaving Southeast Asia Plan Idea To Black

Washington (AP) — President Johnson said Thursday night he has no definite, detailed plan for helping the development of Southeast Asia. But he said he has commissioned Eugene Black to take up the whole matter with Secretary General U Thant of the United Nations.

Black is an experienced figure in international financial affairs—for 13 years he headed the World Bank—who was tapped by Johnson to lead a committee in the search for ways to develop Southeast Asia. Black came to the White House Thursday and met with Johnson and a dozen or so key advisers.

Johnson proposed that nations band together, Russia included, to assist the Far East. He did this in a speech in Baltimore Wednesday night. At the same time he suggested the United Nations take the initiative.

Johnson's Southeast Asia peace offer won wide applause around the non-Communist world Thursday, but a ringing and not unexpected rejection came from one of the most important quarters —Red China.

Black To Assure

Thursday night Johnson told reporters, with Black by his side and government officials sitting around the cabinet table, that he had asked Black to get together with U Thant and assure the secretary general of America's desire "to be helpful in any Southeast Asia plan that could be evolved."

Johnson said U Thant's familiarity with the area and his prestige there should be of great help.

Black said he has no date with U Thant yet, that he just heard about his new assignment Wednesday, and that he came to Washington to get a better understanding of it.

Johnson said government officials outlined what is being done in the field of assistance to Sountheast Asia, the extent of resources available for any additional assistance, and provided an evaluation of how programs are operating.

No Details

When a reporter pressed for details of what Johnson has in mind, he said he had asked U Thant Wednesday night to evolve a plan and:

"Now you are asking me to evolve it for him. That I'm not going to do."

Johnson said former President Dwight D. Eisenhower called him Thursday and said he had listened to the President's speech Wednesday night with great interest, commended the selection of Black, and agreed to see Johnson when he comes east the first of next month.

Peking's turndown was expected. It had been predicted by U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson at a cabinet meeting shortly before word of the Chinese broadcast denunciation arrived on news wires.

More 'Thoughtful'

Stevenson, talking to newsmen after the White House session, held out hope that the Soviet Union would give a more "thoughtful" response. He declined to forecast North Viet Nam's reply—generally regarded as crucial at this stage.

Other White House sources said Johnson, scanning the international horizon for Communist reaction, does not believe the Reds are ready for Viet Nam peace talks now.

U.S. officials said that while the Soviet leadership continued to denounce U.S. activities in Viet Nam, the Johnson offer was published in the government-controlled Russian press. They said it was published also in Hanoi, which has opposed negotiations hitherto.

But Johnson went ahead with his two-pronged peace campaign announced in His speech Wednesday night while Washington diplomacy gave the Communists more time to consider.

San Diego Robber Holds Off Police In Pawn Shop Battle

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—A holdup man killed a pawn shop employe Thursday, police reported, and then for four hours held off officers armed with tear gas, concussion grenades, an armored car, riot guns and tommy guns.

After a battle which turned a downtown street into a bullet-swept no-man's land, police rushed into the shattered shop and captured the gunman.

He had been shot in the stomach and arm. Police said he was dazed and helpless when they reached him.

Police identified the wounded man as Robert Page Anderson, 25, a San Diego laborer. His condition was listed as serious at county hospital. Police said he was conscious, but refused to talk.

Shot to death in the holdup was Louis Richards, a pawn shop salesman. A second employe, Theodore Sweinty, ran up a flight of stairs and escaped.

Newsman Dies

A newsman, Robert Crandall, 50, editor of a San Diego biweekly paper, The Independent, collapsed and died of an apparent heart attack during the battle.

The battle started when a passerby told hotel clerk C. H. Chiles a robbery was under way in a pawn shop in the Penn Hotel building at 5th Avenue and F Streets. Chiles investigated. He said he saw a man who waved a pistol at him, and ran.

Moments later, at 10:18 a.m., police arrived, retreated before a volley of fire, and called reinforcements.

In the door of the shop Richards lay, dead or dying, as bullets screamed overhead. A deputy coroner said he died from a .22 caliber bullet in the abdomen. Police said they used no .22 weapons.

Helped Himself

The bandit helped himself to pistols, shotguns and ammunition from the shop's shelves, officers said. His gunfire kept police huddling behind parked cars.

Police Sgt. Allen Brown, armed with a shotgun, crawled to the doorway, examined Richards, and signaled others—with a thumbs-down gesture—that he was dead.

Tear gas shells were fired into the shop, their acrid fumes drifting down the cordoned-off street amid a steady rain. Each shell brought more return fire. Police pleas that he surrender—broadcast on bullhorns—were spurned.

Armored Car

An armored car of the type used to deliver cash was driven in front of the shop and officers fired from it into the pawnshop.

Concussion grenades were obtained from the U.S. Navy. Two were thrown into the shop. The blasts blew out the remains of the shop's front windows.

More shots came from within. Then there was another silence.

Heavily armed officres rushed inside, guns ready. On a mezzanine at the rear of the shop they found the gunman. He made no move to resist as they grabbed him.

Senate Panel Broadens To Johnson's Voting Bill

Washington (AP)—Negro voting-rights guarantees far broader than those recommended by President Johnson were written Thursday into the pending administration bill to end racial discrimination at the polls.

A bloc of nine senators — six Democrats and three Republicans—pushed five new provisions through the Senate Judiciary Committee. The proposed changes include a ban on poll taxes in state and local elections.

The changes already had been revised after a series of conferences between Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and Senate leaders.

These are other new terms adopted by the judiciary committee:

—Federal voting examiners, the officials who would register voters in covered area would be authorized to name government poll watchers.

—A provision outlawing intimidation of people seeking to register or vote would be broadened to cover private citizens, as well as state or local officials.

—One would let the government send federal officials to register voters in any state or election unit where less than 25% of the voting-age Negro population was registered.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a major architect of the administration proposal, opposed the changes.

U.S. Casualty List Released By Pentagon

Washington (AP)—A new Pentagon compilation of casualties in Viet Nam showed Thursday that 455 U.S. military personnel have lost their lives there.

The total includes 329 deaths through April 5 resulting from action by hostile forces and 126 from non-combat causes including airplane and helicopter accidents. Similar reports are issued periodically by the Pentagon.

President Johnson in his Viet Nam speech said "some 400" American young men" have ended their lives on Viet Nam's steaming soil." He did not specify that all were combat casualties.

Cab-Driving Ex-Governor Has New Job

Chester, W. Va. (AP) — William C. Marland, the former West Virginia governor who was found driving a cab in Chicago last month, has a new job.

The 47-year-old Marland will be associated with James Edwards, a former Huntington, W. Va. man who served on the West Virginia Racing Commission during the former governor's administration.

Edwards, in making the announcement here Thursday, said Marland will have an important position in his firm and will have considerable responsibility and authority.

Marland was governor from 1953 to 1957. When his term ended he ran twice for the U.S Senate, but he was defeated.

Soviet Show Spaceship Holds 100 Cosmonauts

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union is building a new spaceship for 100 cosmonauts that will never leave the ground. It will sit in a new space museum to be built at the site of Moscow's space monument, Tass said.

Visitors to the museum will be able to sit in a model cabin of an interplanetary spaceship and see a movie of how the earth looks from space. The cabin will seat 100 spectators.

Wedgewood Area Group Plans To Build Swim Pool

Construction of a swimming pool is the goal of the newly organized Wedgewood Area Recreation Association started by residents from the Wedgewood and Maple Village subdivisions.

Some 65 persons met Thursday evening to discuss the formation of an association to sell membership bonds, supervise construction of the pool and manage the facility.

Two locations are being considered for the swimming pool and will be voted on at the next meeting April 20. They are sites north of Wedgewood Lake or on A Street adjacent to Seacrest Field.

Ervin Peterson of Peterson Construction Co. has indicated he will donate the land for the pool at whichever site the association selects, according to Neil Coffin, one of the elected board members.

Freight Car Measures Draw Opposition Of Eastern Rails

Washington (AP)—A spokesman for more than a score of railroads which operate east of the Mississippi River Thursday opposed bills designed to make sure there are enough railroad freight cars available in the county.

David E. Smuker, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, expressed his views at a Senate commerce subcommittee hearing.

Earlier, Patrick D. Sutherland, Washington state utilities commissioner, and representatives of the Agricultural Department, the American Farm Bureau Federation and the American Plywood Association supported the measures.

The bills would give the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to set per-day charges for use of freight cars on a basis that would encourage railroads which are short in car ownership to acquire a proportionate share of the number of cars needed to meet the needs of commerce and national defense.

Smuker said the artificial standard, as he put it, of fixing compensation or car hire as provided in the bills would be inequitable and impractical.

It would result, he said, in unjust enrichment of the few carriers that can best afford to buy cars, a burden on others, and an excessive amount of empty-car mileage. He suggests more efficient use of the present car fleet.

Nebraskans Back Bills

Sutherland testified that car shortages in the Pacific northwest are becoming worse and are affecting lumber and grain interests vital to Washington's economy. Shippers and processors of sugar beets, wheat, plywood and other products attest to the seriousness of the problem, he added.

Others who supported the bills were Guy R. Hubbard, Seattle, a member of the Plywood association; Emett J. Smith, Chicago, traffic manager of a lumber concern; Matt Triggs of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Sens. Carl T. Curtis and Roman R. Hruska of Nebraska.

Eight Big Oil Firms Labeled Price Fixers

Newark, N.J. (UPI)—Eight of the largest oil and petroleum companies in the country Thursday were charged in a federal indictment with fixing the prices of gasoline sold in a three-state area

The sales in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Delaware amount to 3.6 billion gallons and $720 million.

U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said civil suits also have been filed against the companies

The companies named in the indictment are the American Oil Co. of Chicago; Atlantic Refining Co. of Philadelphia; Cities Service Oil Corp., Bartlesville, Okla.; Gulf Oil Co., Pittsburgh; Humble Oil and Refining Co., Houston; Cities Service Co., New York; Sinclair Refining Co. and the Socony Mobile Co., both of New York.

Carey Won't Quit AFL-CIO Post

Washington (AP) — James B. Carey, clinging to the remnants of his 30-year career as a national labor leader, refused Thursday to resign his high AFL-CIO post despite election fraud charges.

Carey rejected AFL-CIO President George Meany's demand that he quit the executive council of the labor federation following his resignation as president of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Trio In Contempt Of Congress For Refusing To Talk To HUAC Meet

Washington (AP)— Two leaders of Women Strike for Peace and a New York man were convicted of contempt of Congress Thursday for refusing to testify at a closed session of a House UnAmerican Activities Subcommittee.

The committee sought to ask them what part they played in trying to get a visa for a visit to this country by a Japanese professor who has opposed nuclear weapons and who won the Lenin Peace Prize in 1958.

Found guilty by U.S. District Judge Edward M. Curran on two counts of contempt were: Mrs. Dagmar Wilson and Mrs. Donna Allen. Both are from Washington.

The third defendant, Russell Nixon, was found guilty on one count. He is general manager of "The Guardian," a New York publication he described as a progressive weekly newspaper. Each count carries a maximum of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Mrs. Wilson said she hopes the trial aided in "better explaining our position on peace and added that she feels that "peace is on trial." Women Strike for Peace opposed nuclear weapons.

Youth Changes Plea In Vehicle Homicide Case

Larry J. Chopp, charged with motor vehicle homicide in connection with the November, 1964, death of 12-year-old Gertrude Weber, changed his plea from innocent to nolo contendere in Lancaster District Court Thursday.

The 18-year-old youth, of 6834 Leighton, was one of two Lincoln youths involved in the car-pedestrian fatal accident on Cotner between Fairfax and Aylesworth Streets.

Youth Changes Plea In Vehicle Homicide Case

Larry J. Chopp, charged with motor vehicle homicide in connection with the November, 1964, death of 12-year-old Gertrude Weber, changed his plea from innocent to nolo contendere in Lancaster District Court Thursday.

The 18-year-old youth, of 6834 Leighton, was one of two Lincoln youths involved in the car-pedestrian fatal accident on Cotner between Fairfax and Aylesworth Streets.

Bill Giving Review Unit Power Held

. . . NO FOES

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

A bill to give Nebraska Power Review Board authority over construction of electric generation plants by municipal utilities surprisingly attracted no opposition Thursday at its public hearing.

The measure, LB767, was heard and held by the Legislature's Public Works Committee.

The Power Board now holds no authority over construction of generation plants by municipalities. All efforts to give the board any control over municipal utilities have bumped into strong opposition in the past.

Control Cost

LB767 stipulates that the board may not approve municipal generation construction unless it is established that the utility can produce energy at a cost no greater than it would pay to purchase from its wholesale supplier.

Sen. Dale Payne of Papillion, chief sponsor of the bill, said it is designed to "keep rates as low as possible" for municipal electric customers.

Payne said he opposes the idea of constructing generation facilities for the sake of local pride, when the energy can be supplied more cheaply by purchase.

For Elections

Advanced to the floor following hearing was LB709, permitting persons in communities served at wholesale by Consumers Public Power District to vote for CPPD directors. Now, only retail cities may participate in choosing board members.

CPPD attorney Richard Wilson of Lincoln supported the bill, noting that it will allow Lincolnites to continue to vote after the merger of Consumers and city properties in Lancaster County is consummated.

City Attorney Ralph Nelson and Clarence Davis also supported the bill on behalf of the City of Lincoln.

Not 'Torn Up'

Davis said it would help assure that the CPPD board will not be "torn up" prior to finalizing the Lincoln agreement. Presumably, if a number of Consumers directors were disqualified when their communities become wholesale customers, the board could change its position on ratifying the Lincoln agreement.

A final agreement should be reached in the next two or three months, Davis said.

Wilson noted that "consumers apparently is going to be supplying electricity mainly at wholesale to the larger towns" which it now serves at retail and which are seeking to take over operation of their distribution systems.

The bill won 6-0 committee approval.

Salary Hike

In other action, the lawmakers advanced

—LB339, increasing the maximum monthly salary for directors of the Omaha Public Power District from $100 to $200, and for the president of the board from $150 to $250 (7-0).

—LB720 prohibiting public power district directors from accepting any paid post with the district for a year following completion of their elected or appointed terms (5-1).

Bill Giving Review Unit Power Held

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

A bill to give Nebraska Power Review Board authority over construction of electric generation plants by municipal utilities surprisingly attracted no opposition Thursday at its public hearing.

The measure, LB767, was heard and held by the Legislature's Public Works Committee.

The Power Board now holds no authority over construction of generation plants by municipalities. All efforts to give the board any control over municipal utilities have bumped into strong opposition in the past

Control Cost

LB767 stipulates that the board may not approve municipal generation construction unless it is established that the utility can produce energy at a cost no greater than it would pay to purchase from its wholesale supplier.

Sen. Dale Payne of Papillion, chief sponsor of the bill, said it is designed to "keep rates as low as possible" for municipal electric customers.

Payne said he opposes the idea of constructing generation facilities for the sake of local pride, when the energy can be supplied more cheaply by purchase.

For Elections

Advanced to the floor following hearing was LB709, permitting persons in communities served at wholesale by Consumers Public Power District to vote for CPPD directors. Now, only retail cities may participate in choosing board members.

CPPD attorney Richard Wilson of Lincoln supported the bill, noting that it will allow Lincolnites to continue to vote after the merger of Consumers and city properties in Lancaster County is consummated.

City Attorney Ralph Nelson and Clarence Davis also supported the bill on behalf of the City of Lincoln.

Not 'Torn Up'

Davis said it would help assure that the CPPD board will not be "torn up" prior to finalizing the Lincoln agreement. Presumably, if a number of Consumers directors were disqualified when their communities become wholesale customers, the board could change its position on ratifying the Lincoln agreement.

A final agreement should be reached in the next two or three months, Davis said.

Wilson noted that "consumers apparently is going to be supplying electricity mainly at wholesale to the larger towns" which it now serves at retail, and which are seeking to take over operation of their distribution systems.

The bill won 6-0 committee approval.

Salary Hike

In other action, the lawmakers advanced:

—LB339, increasing the maximum monthly salary for directors of the Omaha Public Power District from $100 to $200, and for the president of the board from $150 to $250. (7-0).

—LB720, prohibiting public power district directors from accepting any paid post with the district for a year following completion of their elected or appointed terms. (5-1).
